Kennedy Asks Americans Aid Tractor Fund

President Helped Organize Group Directing Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring a government hands-off policy, President Kennedy Wednesday urged Americans to contribute to the $15-million fund to buy tractors Fidel Castro has demanded for release of Cuban invasion prisoners.

At the same time, the White House revealed that Kennedy had helped organize the citizens group that is spearheading the fund drive.

The President's statement made it clear he considers there are no legal blocks to the deal, as some members of Congress have argued. But he emphasized:

"The United States government has not and cannot be a party to these negotiations."

Kennedy added that while the government is "putting forward neither obstacles nor assistance to this wholly private effort, I hope that all citizens will contribute what they can."

Sen. Capehart Objects

Among senators who have labeled Castro's demands as "blackmail" and decried any official sanction of the swap there were expressions of consternation at Kennedy's actions, although some had demanded that he take a stand.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who has opposed any government sanction of the deal, told reporters:

"I didn't realize the President had taken such a personal interest in this project."

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., said: "I'm 100 per cent opposed to it. I think the President is wrong. We are setting a precedent for every big and little dictator around the world to blackmail us whenever he feels like it."

White House aides said Kennedy's main concern in helping organize the drive was to make sure that a single group supervised the effort.

Bipartisan Committee

It is headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, and Richard N. Goodwin, a presidential aide, gave newsmen this picture of Kennedy's participation in setting up the committee:

After Castro publicly offered to exchange the 1,200 prisoners for 500 tractors there were several private moves to accept the offer. One was by Mrs. Roosevelt, so Kennedy telephoned her.

Because of the nature of the equipment demanded by Castro, Kennedy then called Reuther, whose union members make tractors.

A feeling then developed that the committee should be bipartisan since Mrs. Roosevelt and Reuther are Democrats. Milton Eisenhower was recommended as a Republican who might join in the effort so Kennedy enlisted him.

Gromyko Quits Laos Meeting, Now In Recess

GENEVA (AP) — The conference on Laos, already slowed by impending summit talks, was further downgraded Wednesday by the departure of another foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union.

Gromyko left the conference for Paris on the way to Moscow and is expected to accompany Soviet Premier Khrushchev to the Vienna meeting next weekend with President Kennedy.

The American, English and French foreign ministers already have returned to their capitals, leaving only Red China among the major powers represented by its top foreign-office official.

Gromyko did not attend Wednesday's conference. Aides said he was at his villa catching up with other work.

A new Chinese Communist attack on U. S. policy was the highlight of Wednesday's sessions, adjourned by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin, who was presiding.

Pushkin set no date for the next session but said it would be held sometime between Thursday and next Monday. Meanwhile the delegates will consult privately on the plans advanced for peace in Laos.

The pace of the Laotian negotiations has slowed in the past few days. The U.S. delegation has hardly intervened in the conference debate since Secretary of State Dean Rusk returned to Washington last Saturday.

A Cambodian spokesman said his country's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, dispatched a personal appeal to Kennedy and Khrushchev telling them that "the Laotian nation would find peace and settle its own problems much better if the two great powers leave the Laotians alone." The two meet in Vienna June 3-4.

Sihanouk has been working unsuccessfully to bring together the three rival factions in Laos.

Atty. General Asks Groups Defer Trips

Innocent People May Be Injured, Kennedy Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy called on Negro and white "freedom riders" Wednesday to hold back on their integrated bus trips into Alabama and Mississippi.

"Innocent people may be injured," he said. "A mob asks no questions."

The attorney general issued his statement as Mississippi police arrested two groups of riders in Jackson and other groups announced plans to start bus trips through the Deep South almost every day.

"A cooling-off period is needed," Kennedy said.

"It would be wise," he continued, "for those traveling through these two states to delay their trips until the present state of confusion and danger has passed and an atmosphere of reason and normalcy has been restored."

Travelers Endangered

He added: "Besides the groups of 'freedom riders' traveling through these states, there are curiosity seekers, publicity seekers, and others who are seeking to serve their own causes, as well as many persons who are traveling because they must use the interstate carriers to reach their destination.

"The Alabama and Mississippi law enforcement officials are meeting the test today, but their job is becoming increasingly difficult."

Alabama's Gov. John Patterson commented: "It's the first common sense the federal government has displayed in many days."

Aides to Kennedy said his statement was prompted partly by the fact that the state police-guarded bus that traveled from Montgomery to Jackson Wednesday was followed by a second bus having nothing to do with the "freedom riders."

Summit Talks Cited

The aides said this second bus was not under police protection and might have been in danger from angry bystanders unable to distinguish which bus carried "freedom riders."

Earlier, Kennedy urged the two states and the riders "to weigh their actions carefully"—especially now that President Kennedy plans a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This plea for restraint came soon after the Negro and white riders—badly beaten by a mob in Montgomery Saturday — resumed their trip through Alabama. Other antisegregationists joined them.

Navy Jet Spans Nation In 2 Hours And 48 Minutes

NEW YORK (AP)—A Navy jet fighter plane flashed from coast to coast in 2 hours, 48 minutes Wednesday to eclipse a record that had stood since 1957. Two accompanying planes were timed within 15 minutes, also beating the old record.

Said Lt. Richard F. Gordon, 31, of Seattle, Wash., who piloted the fastest plane across the nation at an average speed of 871.38 m.p.h.:

"It was a wonderful trip. The weather was fine all along the route. I feel great, but I'm real tired."

As the three F4H1 Phantoms zoomed down from 50,000 feet for a landing at Floyd Bennet Field, shock waves exploded ahead of them with a thunder-like clap that startled metropolitan residents on the ground below.

Asian Leaders Promised U.S. Help But Not Troops

WASHINGTON (AP — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson reported Wednesday that, with President Kennedy's authority, he promised Asian leaders this country will make any sacrifice required in the defense against communism. But he said there are no plans to send U. S. troops.

Johnson stressed instead a need for economic and social advance in poverty-ridden Asia to stop Communist inroads. He said Kennedy will ask Congress for new foreign aid Thursday.

The vice president spoke at a news conference fresh from his return from a 15-day, globe-circling tour that took him to seven countries in Red-threatened areas. Kennedy assigned him to see the leaders of South Viet Nam, Nationalist China, the Philippines, Thailand, India, Pakistan and Greece.

Flying into Andrews Air Force Base from Bermuda Wednesday morning, Johnson promptly hopped by helicopter to the White House where he conferred with the President.

Kennedy headed a welcoming committee on the White House lawn and told Johnson he had heard not "a single discordant note" from the countries Johnson visited. Kennedy called the trip a mission showing America's concern for the cause of freedom.

At an afternoon news conference in the State Department auditorium, Johnson gave a preliminary report and answered questions.

South Korean Leader Calls Off U.S. Trip

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, South Korea's revolutionary premier, Thursday called off his plan to visit President Kennedy in Washington.

The U.S. State Department said such a meeting was not feasible, for the time being.

Earlier, Chang and four assistants were planning to leave Thursday afternoon for Tokyo where they would catch a jet flight to the United States. They made reservations for the flight and asked for visas from the U.S. embassy Wednesday night. Visas were not granted.

During the night several calls were made by aides of Chang to the U.S. Embassy seeking word on the visas. They were told nothing came from Washington on them.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White told a Washington news conference that a Chang visit would not be feasible now.

"We can fully understand the reason why Gen. Chang would like to come to Washington at this time," White said, "but given the crowded schedule of the President, this is just not practical or feasible at this time."

No follower of diplomatic protocol, Chang had announced he wanted to visit Kennedy. He obviously hoped to win the President's support for his regime and erase the disapproval of U.S. officials here for overthrowing the elected government of Premier John M. Chang.

Marshall Green, U.S. charge d'affaires, met with Chang for 45 minutes but gave him no encouragement regarding his planned visit to Washington.

Green, however, reportedly told Chang he was encouraged by a number of steps the new regime is planning but would not be satisfied until words are translated into deeds. Green expressed special concern over political arrests and the new government's relations with Japan.

Arrangements For Summit Set

VIENNA (UPI) —United States and Soviet officials Wednesday completed arrangements for the first face-to-face meeting of President Kennedy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev at which the two leaders will discuss crucial East-West issues.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy and Khrushchev will hold morning and afternoon meetings during their exchange of views in Vienna June 3-4. Salinger, who headed the U.S. advance party, flew back to Washington Wednesday to report to Kennedy on the arrangements.

The official schedule is not expected to be announced until Washington and Moscow approve details worked out by the advance parties.

But Salinger said Kennedy and Khrushchev will devote a "maximum possible time" to their talks. He said they will meet Saturday, June 3, at the U.S. ambassador's residence and Sunday June 4, in the Soviet Embassy.

Officials sources say Khrushchev will arrive in Vienna by train on June 2 while Kennedy will arrive by plane the following day.

Senate Nears Final Vote On School Bill

House Group Approves Big Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Education Committee Wednesday approved President Kennedy's $2.5 billion public school aid bill as the Senate pushed a similar measure to the brink of final passage.

The measure cleared the last Senate hurdles when members slapped down a combination anti-segregation and church school aid amendment and a proposal to forbid the withholding of funds from qualified schools, including segregated schools.

The chamber then closed the door on further changes. Wind-up speeches and a final vote were expected Thursday. Administration forces beat down every amendment they feared would imperil the bill.

The House committee approved its bill 18 to 13 after chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., refused to allow consideration of an amendment to provide federal grants for construction of non-religious facilities at parochial and private schools.

The amendment's sponsor, Rep. Herbert Zelenko, D-N.Y., was reported to be satisfied with Powell's promise to support the church school proposal during consideration of an extension of the National Defense Education Act. Work on that bill starts June 1.

This would avert a religious controversy which administration backers fear would turn Catholic Democrats against Kennedy's bill.

Before voting final approval, the committee rejected an anti-discrimination amendment and a loyalty oath provision.

Only one Democrat on the House committee, Rep. Ralph Scott of North Carolina, joined 12 Republicans in voting against the bill. School aid backers hope to win over enough Southern Democrats from the opposing GOP-Dixie Democratic coalition to win House approval.

The House Rules Committee was expected to clear the bill shortly and sent it to the house floor late next week or the following week. Powell predicted approval. But Reps. Peter Frelinghuysen, R-N.J. and Albert Quie, R-Minn., said opponents had some chance of defeating the bill.

The Senate and House measures are similar. They both carry about $200,000 more than the $2.3 billion Kennedy asked for grants for classroom construction and teachers' salaries in public schools.

18 Of 24 Aboard Killed In Crash Of Globemaster

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — A C124 Globemaster transport carrying 22 persons plunged to earth and burst into flames minutes after taking off from McChord Field Wednesday, killing eighteen of those aboard and critically injuring the other four.

The plane, enroute to Ft. Sill, Okla., was returning 15 Army enlisted men who had been in the northwest to take part in exercise Lava Plains at the Yakima, Wash. firing center.

The huge MATS plane got only five miles from McChord, however, when it plunged to earth from an altitude of about 500 feet shearing off the tops of trees, catching afire and scattering wreckage over a large area.

Two of the survivors were pulled from the flaming wreckage by crewmen of a helicopter which landed in a small clearing near the scene.

Lt. William Luther of Oakland, Calif., who piloted the 'copter, said "The flames were still pretty bad when we set down. After I landed, the other three (rescue workers) jumped out and ran into the fire. They brought out two men on stretchers. One of them was still conscious."

The helicopter flew the two men to Madigan General Hospital, and three more were taken there by ambulance. One of those was dead on arrival, however.

The plane was attached to the 63rd Troop Carrier Wing of Donaldson Air Force Base, S. C., and carried an eight ton truck and two small trailers in addition to the 22 men.

Tshombe Suffers Nervous Breakdown

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—The Katanga government said it received word from Coquilhatville Wednesday that President Moise Tshombe is suffering a serious nervous breakdown.

A spokesman did not say how it was learned the independence-minded president of this province is ill. But he said U.N. headquarters in Elisabethville has been asked to provide safe conduct for Tshombe's personal physician, Dr. G. Szeles, so he could go to Coquilhatville.

The central government arrested Tshombe nearly a month ago when he attempted to leave a unity conference of Congo leaders in Coquilhatville. He has been under guard since.

JFK To Deliver 'Urgent Needs' Message Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy will go before a joint session of Congress Thursday to outline "urgent national needs," including bigger outlays for space, defense and overseas aid.

The White House said the Chief Executive had decided to deliver his 5,500-word special message in person, beginning at 12:30 p.m. EDT.

The message will cover a broad range of problems. In addition to calling for speedups in the three major programs, it will suggest further steps to strengthen the domestic economy.

No over-all new spending figure was disclosed. But House Speaker Sam Rayburn said at the White House Tuesday that the program as outlined to Democratic leaders would involve "a lot of money."

The address will be carried live on radio and television by CBS, NBC and ABC. Mutual will carry it live on radio.

Andrew Hatcher, acting White House News secretary, did not go into details of the message. But Democratic leaders said Kennedy would ask substantially more money for space exploration, for the armed services and for foreign aid.

The President is expected to request both authority and funds for a program to retain workers in areas of chronic unemployment so they can get new jobs. New recommendations on civil defense also are expected.

As the President prepared to offer his new defense proposals, the House unanimously approved an increased authorization for construction of missiles, planes and ships. The aim was to make this country so strong it never will have to fight.

The measure, passed on a 40-0 roll call vote, would authorize $12.4 billion for the military construction program. The request had been increased both by Kennedy and the House Armed Services Committee.

"Radio Brain" Satellite Attempt Ends In Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Second-stage failure thwarted an attempt Wednesday to orbit a radio brain satellite to investigate the effect of the ionosphere on radio and television communication.

The 75-pound satellite was launched in the nose of a Juno II rocket. The early part of the flight appeared smooth, but project officials reported later that the second stage failed to ignite.

The radio brain satellite carries a single radio transmitter designed to bombard ground stations around the world with a steady stream of signals on six different frequencies.

Analysis of the radio impulses as received on earth could tell why the ionosphere occasionally disrupts radio transmission, causing blackouts, fading, and snowy television reception.

The experiment could show how the ionosphere changes under such influences as sunlight, solar flares and magnetic storms.

It could also help locate proper frequencies for long-range communication, and determine the best times for using them. And it might discover holes in the ionosphere for communication with future space vehicles.

The main body of the satellite is shaped like a child's top 24 inches high and 30 inches in diameter. A loop antenna supported by struts circles the body at a distance of about two feet. It is for low frequency signals of 20, 40 and 41 megacycles.

A 20-inch spike antenna extends from the top of the satellite.

27 Arrested On Arrival In Miss. Capital

Seized After They Enter Bus Terminal Rooms For 'Whites'

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Two buses carrying 27 "freedom riders"—both whites and Negroes — rolled into Mississippi's capital city Wednesday and all landed in jail.

City policemen who ringed the city's bus terminal—some of them with police dogs on leashes — arrested both groups when they strolled into waiting rooms reserved for whites.

Charges against the "freedom riders," whose trip Wednesday started in Montgomery, Ala., included breach of peace, disobeying an officer and attempting to incite a riot. Bond for each of the "freedom riders" was set at $500 on each charge, but none made bail immediately.

The pattern for arrests was the same in both cases. Officers repeatedly ordered the "freedom riders" to leave, but the order was ignored.

Police hustled them into a waiting patrol wagon.

There was one white person in each of the 12-member contingents aboard the two buses.

NAACP To Post Bond

Jackson Police Chief W. D. Rayfield said the "freedom riders" came to Jackson to violate city and state laws, and he said they would be "accomodated" by being arrested for such violations.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People offered its full legal resources to the "freedom riders" and said this would include posting the $500 bond for each.

Crowds flocked to the terminal in this city of 150,000, awaiting arrival of the first bus, but there were no incidents other than the arrests.

The crowd dispersed when the patrol wagon hauled the "freedom riders" away. The blue-clad policemen remained near the bus terminal directing traffic.

Among the 27 arrested at Jackson were Paul Dietrich, 29, a white man from Washington, D. C., and the Rev. James M. Lawson, a Negro minister from Nashville.

Before boarding the bus in Montgomery most of the Negro riders strolled into the bus stations' lunchroom and ordered breakfast. They were served without any hesitancy.

The bus-station manager said they were the first Negroes ever to eat at the lunchroom.

Bus Dynamite Threat

Mississippi Adjt. Gen. W. P. Wilson said there were reports that a short-fused stick of dynamite would be tossed into the bus when it stopped at the Alabama-Mississippi line.

But when the bus stopped at a knoll on the state line to exchange Mississippi National Guardsmen for their Alabama counterparts, there was no incident. But patrolmen had cleared the area in advance.

Lawson asked that the heavy military and police escort be stopped.

"We will accept the violence and the hate," he said, "absorb it without returning it in kind."

But his appeal fell on deaf ears and a caravan of National Guard, highway patrol and sheriff's deputies rolled toward Jackson with the bus.

Meanwhile, a third contingent of "freedom riders," including white faculty members of Yale and Wesleyan Universities, left Atlanta for Montgomery, Mississippi and eventually New Orleans, the target of all "freedom riders" delegations.

Two Armed Robbers Invade D.C. Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two gunmen forced their way into a northwest Washington residence Wednesday, bound three persons with adhesive tape and took $1,200 in cash and a check, two rings and a watch.

Police said Mrs. Lele Debruh, 27, answered a knock on the front door and was confronted by two men with drawn revolvers. They pushed their way into the house.

The gunmen then told Mrs. Debruh and her 17-year-old sister to sit down and were about to tie them up when Mrs. Debruh's husband, Paul, entered the house.

The gunmen asked Debruh where he kept his money. When he declined to answer they struck him with a gun, police said. They said he subsequently told the gunmen where the money was.

AT&T Antitrust Probe Launched

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department has started an antitrust investigation of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

News of the investigation, which came in a letter from the department to the head of a labor union, caused AT&T stock to drop sharply on the New York Stock Exchange.

At noon, the stock slumped to $117.75 a share, a drop of $7.37. However, it began to recover after that and climbed to $122 at the close of the market, for a total day's loss of $3.13.

Newsman Tells Of Trip With "Freedom Riders"

EDITOR'S NOTE — Here is an eye witness account of the "freedom riders" bus trip from Montgomery, Ala., to Jackson, Miss., as told by an Associated Press reporter who bought his ticket and made the 253-mile trip.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — No matter what else befalls them, the 12 "freedom riders" who went by bus Wednesday from Montgomery, Ala., to Jackson, Miss., must rank among the most heavily protected and most extensively interviewed passengers in the history of interstate commerce.

The bubble-domed Trailways bus that transported the nine Negro men, two Negro women and one white man on the 253-mile trip was escorted to the Mississippi line by a convoy of 42 cars bearing National Guardsmen in battle dress, uniformed state troopers and assorted reporters, photographers, radio announcers and television camera men.

When the bus crossed the state line at Scratch Hill, Ala., a similar and even more impressive array of Mississippi Guardsmen and state troopers took over the detail of protecting the bus and its passengers.

National Guard reconnaisance planes and helicopters hovered overhead throughout the entire trip.

Until their eventual arrest in the Jackson bus station, the segregation-defying riders expressed some resentment against the enormity of the police and military preparations and the extensiveness of the press coverage.

The 16 reporters and cameramen on board the bus for the entire trip actually outnumbered the "freedom riders."

"This is not a normal situation," protested the Rev. James Lawson of Nashville, Tenn., who headed the group. "It does not carry out the purposes of our project. We are not travelling as private citizens but as protectees of a government. We are not seeking violence."

However, the group remained in good humor throughout the seven-hour trip and spent their time reading the Bible and being interviewed by the press representatives who clogged the aisles of the bus.

The only incident of any magnitude aboard the bus developed an hour before its arrival in Jackson, when the Rev. C. T. Vivian, a "freedom rider" clergyman from Nashville, twice asked permission to get off and visit a rest room.

Each time his request was turned down by Lt. Col. Gillespie Montgomery, the ranking National Guard officer on the bus.

Breathedsville Site Approved For New Prison

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Board of Correction formally approved Wednesday the site for a $10 million medium-security prison on the grounds of the Reformatory for Males at Breathedsville, near Hagerstown.

In taking this action, the board indirectly approved the construction of an "open-type" prison—one whose only maximum-security features would be two barbed wire fences, one 17 feet high and the other 10 to 12 feet high.

Before the unanimous vote, G. C. A. Anderson, board chairman, pointed out that approval of the site in one corner of the reformatory grounds was "tantamount to saying we're going to have the open-type institution." The reformatory and the new facility would be located about 1,500 feet apart.

Administration of the medium-security prison would be carried on in conjunction with the reformatory, which will remain a maximum-security institution.

In the new prison, inmates would be subject to more relaxed controls. Easily controlled prisoners could be shifted from the reformatory to different buildings in the new prison with progressively less supervision as they approached the ends of their terms.

The architect, Anderson and J. Prentiss Browne, said the decision to eliminate maximum security features such as special locks, barred windows and stronger walls would mean a considerable saving in construction costs.

James W. Curran, superintendent of prisons, said he had reservations about the construction of an "open-type" prison, but admitted the proposed design followed "modern thinking in penology."

The new prison will have a capacity of 700 men. The location of it at Breathedsville was settled by Gov. Tawes after two years had passed without a decision being made as to where it would be built.

Man Convicted Of Assaulting State Trooper

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—A 23-year-old Baltimore man was found guilty Wednesday of charges arising from an assault on a State Police officer last October.

James Richard Bragg was convicted on two counts of assault with a deadly weapon. He was accused of chaining Trooper Gene H. Miller to a metal post after Miller had stopped his car on Maryland 30 near Manchester last Oct. 27.

Bragg was convicted by a Carroll County Circuit Court jury which deliberated about one hour after the one-day trial. Judge James E. Boyoan Jr. deferred sentence pending a possible defense move for a new trial.

Bragg had appealed to circuit court from the decision of Westminster Trial Magistrate G. Norman Hunter, who sentenced him to three years in the House of Correction last Dec. 7.

Bragg was identified at Wednesday's trial by Miller and Hewlett S. Stone of Westminster, who said he had been forced at gunpoint to drive Bragg to Baltimore the night after the assault on Miller.

Defense witnesses attempted to show Bragg had been in Baltimore both nights.

John D. Murchison Heads Alleghany

NEW YORK (AP) — John D. Murchison Wednesday personally took the reins of Alleghany Corp. —but only temporarily, pending search for a new permanent head of the $6.7 billion holding company.

He was named president and given the authority of chief executive officer at an organization meeting of the new Alleghany board.

Dissident stockholders led by Murchison, 39, and his brother Clint W., Jr., 37, were certified Tuesday in Baltimore as victors in a proxy fight to overthrow Allan P. Kirby.

Kirby, 68, for 24 years had been corporation president or chairman, filling both posts for three years preceding designation of Charles T. Ireland Jr. as president last January.

The board chairmanship vacated by Kirby was left unfilled.

Eichmann Accused Of Ordering 100 Czech Children Murdered

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel charged Wednesday that Adolf Eichmann was responsible for the murder of 100 orphaned Czech children deported from the martyred village of Lidice that was deliberately wiped off the map by the Nazis in 1942.

The prosecution at Eichmann's mass murder trial submitted documents intended to prove that the defendant also was responsible for deporting the children—all of them non-Jews—from Lidice to Poland after the razing of Lidice.

The children, ranging in age from one to 11 years were then turned over to the Gestapo on orders from Eichman's office and were slaughtered, the prosecution charged.

Lidice was blasted off the map by the Nazis to avenge the assassination in June, 1942, of Reinhard Heydrich, Nazi security police chief. A Czech patriot killed Heydrich with a hand grenade.

A total of 107 children, all orphaned in that reprisal operation, were sent to Krumey (Lodz) in Poland. The prosecution said seven of the children were "found fit for aryanization" — meaning they would be turned into Germans.

The remainder, it charged, were ruled suitable only for "special treatment"—meaning death in the gas chambers.

The court trying Eichmann for the murder of 6 million Jews was also told he was so eager to eager to slaughter Hungarian Jews that he ordered his experts on Jewish extermination into the country on the heels of the invading German army in 1944.

"He waited for his quarry and he knew it would not escape him," a prosecution witness said.

Wagon Traveler Leaves Salisbury

SALISBURY (AP)—Warren C. Holden and his Conestoga wagon rumbled through Salisbury with a motorized police escort Wednesday.

The 58-year-old retired Pottstown, Pa., tree surgeon is making a 200-mile trip to prove he has recovered from a near-fatal stroke of three years ago.

After a brief stop in downtown Salisbury, where he chatted with pedestrians, Holden continued on his way. His final destination is Berlin, his former hometown, about 24 miles away.

He was expected to finish the journey Thursday.

Navy Claims New 'Copter Speed Mark

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy claimed a second world speed record in a week Wednesday for its turbine-engine HSS-2 helicopter.

The Sikorsky-built 'copter flew 174.9 miles an hour over a 62-mile course to better the current official record of 167.09 miles an hour over a similar course set by a Russian Mil-6 helicopter in 1959.

A week ago, the same craft travelled 192.9 miles an hour over a 1.9 mile straightaway course. That was the fastest speed run ever made by a helicopter.

Women Voters Assured Petitions Legal

BALTIMORE (AP) — States' Atty. Saul A. Harris of Baltimore has assured the Maryland League of Women Voters that their petitions against a congressional redistricting act are legal.

Harris said Wednesday his statements regarding possible violations of the Corrupt Practices Act were limited to petitions "by organizations whose role is an anonymous one."

Harris has said he will investigate petitions attempting to nullify two acts of the 1961 General Assembly which would regulate the savings and loan industry and create a Baltimore Municipal Court.

The League of Women Voters is attempting to secure enough signatures to force a referendum on an act creating Maryland's new 8th Congressional District out of Howard and Prince Georges counties.

Ships, Trade Called Democracy Lifeline

BALTIMORE (AP) — Shipping can be a handy reminder that no nation is really self-sufficient, Thomas E. Stakem, chairman of the Federal Maritime Board, said Wednesday night.

"World trade and ships are truly the lifeline not only of America but of the world democracy," he said.

"We in the United States know that we are not sufficient unto ourselves. We know nothing could be more dangerous to us than to attempt to withdraw into a shell like a giant hermit crab.

"This great port of Baltimore proves to us that we need the raw materials of the world."

Stakem, appointed to the maritime post three months ago by President Kennedy, spoke at the first major event in Maryland's observance of World Trade Week —a captain's dinner in honor of all ship captains who were in port here Wednesday.

Born and reared in Maryland, Stakem was an FBI agent for nine years before he joined the former U. S. Maritime Commission as chief investigator.

Stakem linked world trade to the struggle against communism without mentioning it by name.

"We must so husband our economy that our way of doing business outlasts that of any enemy," he said. "For, clearly, if our economy breaks down our opponents could conceivably win their goals without firing a shot."

At the dinner at a Baltimore hotel, the 1961 Port Personality Award was presented to Herbert J. Watt, former Canton Co. president who now is chairman of the Baltimore Maritime Exchange. Watt is credited with helping get congressional approval of additional funds for deepening and widening the main channel of Baltimore Harbor.

Friday, 94 representatives of 61 foreign embassies and legations in Washington will tour the harbor as part of World Trade Week.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP)—The State Roads Commission reported Wednesday it has a total of $85 million worth of highway projects under contract throughout Maryland, covering 125.3 miles of roads.

The projects involve 58 miles of primary highways, 35.8 miles of secondary roads and 31.5 miles of interstate express routes.

Twenty-three miles of the interstate projects involve completion of the final gaps in the Baltimore Beltway, an expressway that will girdle the city by mid-summer of next year.

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—The Worcester County communities of Ocean City and Bishopville have voted to approve legalized bingo, permitting non-profit organizations to apply for $100 licenses required for the activity.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Department of Aviation reported Wednesday that traffic at Friendship International Airport last month increased 44 per cent over April, 1960.

Charles P. Crane, chairman of the airport board, said more than a million passengers will pass through the terminal this year if the rate of increase noted during the first four months of 1961 continues.

In April, 85,914 passengers were recorded at Friendship, compared with 59,569 for the same month a year ago.

The department this week submitted a $22.5 million building program to the Baltimore Planning Commission, covering anticipated construction needs for the next six years.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The state's 1961 fatality toll from traffic accidents has increased to 136 with the death of Daniel Rogers Jr., 27, Baltimore, in a taxi-truck collision Tuesday night. A year ago, 216 persons had died in traffic accidents at the same period.

EASTON (AP)—Maryland Secretary of State Lloyd L. Simpkins remained in satisfactory condition Wednesday at Easton Memorial Hospital. Simpkins has been under treatment since an automobile accident Monday night.

SALISBURY (AP)—Gov. Tawes will be principal speaker June 11 at the dedication of a new $2 million wing on Peninsula General Hospital.

EASTON (AP) — The Talbot County Historical Society Wednesday dedicated a memorial room at its headquarters here in honor of the late B. Frank Sherman, developer and general manager of the Chesapeake Bay Ferry System.

Sherman pioneered the ferry service across the bay and retired in 1952 when the system closed with the opening of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge. He died three years ago.

The system carried an estimated 20 million passengers during 33 years of service.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The University of Maryland said Wednesday it would offer a greatly expanded program for secondary school science teachers next year.

The six-credit graduate course will be under direction of the university's department of physics and will be offered Sept. 18 until June 3, 1963.

The course was developed by a Physical Science Study Committee, and the tuition, fees and travel expenses of teachers who enroll will be paid under a $20,740 grant to the university from the National Science Foundation.

Gen. Hartle, Of Hagerstown, In Fair Condition Following Stroke

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle, former commander of Camp Fannin, Tex., and the 34th Infantry Division, was reported in fair condition Wednesday following a mild stroke.

Hartle, of Hagerstown, Md., underwent surgery for a blood clot in an artery leading to the brain, a spokesman at Brooke General Hospital said. He was hospitalized May 12 after becoming ill while visiting friends here.

Hartle, 71, retired after 36 years service that began when he was commissioned a second lieutenant following college graduation.

Hartle was born at Chewsville, Md., June 26, 1889, and was graduated from the University of Maryland in 1910.

A few months later he was appointed an infantry second lieutenant in the regular Army. He served in the Philippines, at Ft. Douglas, Utah, and at Ft. Bliss, Tex., then went overseas briefly in 1919 during World War I.

For the next several years, Hartle was professor of military science at a number of schools, including Utah State Agricultural College, Oregon Agricultural College and Salt Lake City high schools.

Later he was graduated from the Army War College and the Naval War College at Newport, R. I., and served on the War Department general staff.

Shortly before World War II Hartle was assigned to the Sixth Division at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., later joining the 34th Infantry Division at Camp Claiborne, La.

In January, 1942, Hartle accompanied Army units to Northern Ireland, returning in mid-1943 to become commanding general of a replacement training center at Camp Fannin, Tex.

In September 1945 he was assigned to headquarters of the Replacement and School Command at Birmingham, Ala., where he served until his retirement June 30, 1946.

Maj. Gen. Hains Retires May 31

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Peter Conover Hains 3d will be honored with a parade of 1,100 troops when he retires next Wednesday after 37 years of military service.

Hains reported to the Second Army Headquarters last month after serving as deputy chief of staff for the Pacific Army in Hawaii.

A native of Winthrop, Mass., Hains is a member of a family overflowing with military tradition.

His great grandfather was an admiral and his grandfather a major general. The grandfather built the tidal basin in Washington and Hains Point there is named after him.

The retiring general father and brother both graduated from the Naval Academy. His brother reached the rank of admiral.

The wife of Gen. Hains is the daughter of a cavalry officer. Two of their sons are Army officers and their daughter is married to an Air Force captain.

He served in both the European and Pacific theaters during World War II.

The general and his wife will live at Gibson Island after his retirement.

B&O Opposes NYC Proposal

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad asked the Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday to reject a proposal by the New York Central Railroad for consolidated hearings on a petition now pending.

The petition by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway seeks ICC approval for the C&O to acquire 55 per cent of B&O stock. The New York Central owns 20 per cent of the B&O stock.

The B&O told the ICC consolidated hearings would result in a delay that could be "highly embarrassing" to the railroad.

The NYC has asked the ICC to consolidate the hearings along with an application by the Norfolk and Western Railway to merge with the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad and to lease properties of the Wabash Railroad.

"If C&O's helping hand is to be rejected by the ICC, B&O should know at the earliest possible date because other arrangements, if they can be made, will not wait," the B&O said. "B&O's situation is pressing."

The pending C&O application does not cover future plans for its announced plans to merge with the B&O. That would have to be covered in a separate petition later.

Beall, Butler Split In Parochial Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a 66-25 vote, the Senate Wednesday tabled and thus killed a school-aid bill amendment by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to authorize private and parochial school construction loans.

The Republican senators from Maryland split in the voting. Sen. John Marshall Butler voted in favor of tabling the motion. Voting with the minority, against the motion to table, was Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland.

West Virginia's Democratic senators, Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd, voted to table the motion.

Dramatic test confirms SUN-PROOF resists discoloring from harmful fumes ever present in the air!

- Here's a convincing demonstration of the way SUN-PROOF keeps your home looking "just-painted" years longer.
- This is a photograph of 3 identical panels of wood siding. Top and bottom panels were finished with competitive house paint, the middle panel with SUN-PROOF.
- A concentrated solution of the fuel and exhaust fumes, found in the air no matter where you live, was sprayed equally on all three panels.
- The panels painted with competitive paint were stained and discolored. But the special fume-resistant pigments in SUN-PROOF kept the middle panel clean and white—just as they will safeguard your home.
- Now is the time to give your home the extra protection which only SUN-PROOF provides—and save money. See your Pittsburgh Paint dealer while this special sale lasts.

Invaders 'Traitors' To Cuba Underground

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

NEW YORK (AP)—A leader of the Cuban underground sat in a Havana prison, bitter and weeping.

"If we ever overthrow Fidel, we'll shoot the invaders as traitors," he declared. "They destroyed our counterrevolutionary organization by not telling us they were coming."

Thus did one of Fidel Castro's enemies vent his desperate anger on a band of a thousand invaders who came to save Cuba and, in the view of many underground fighters, betrayed their comrades.

Many underground members were caught in the mass roundup of Cuban citizens in mid-April, immediately after the preinvasion bombing of the country's main airfields. The prisoner, a 22-year-old Cuban and former student at Texas A&M, was a top-ranking officer in one of the many underground factions that might eventually have overthrown Castro.

Chagrin swept the underground after the detention of a conservatively estimated 250,000 people at the height of the invasion scare. I was among those thousands and spent 25 days in two prisons until my release May 12. Thousands were still imprisoned when I left Cuba last Friday.

"We weren't told when the invasion was coming," the underground leader said. "It now seems every American newspaperman knew the exact day and hour. But why weren't we told?"

In Miami, two days ago, an American newsman confided he had been invited to join the invading forces two days before they struck Cuba's south-central coast. He declined to go.

The counterrevolutionary leader in Havana, asked if he felt an invasion would have succeeded if the underground had received advance word of an attack, said chances were good with a larger invading force.

The invasion, early on the morning of April 17, came two days after Castro's huge "revolutionary defense corps" started a mass detention of all persons suspected of being even indifferent to the revolutionary cause. The detentions were ignited by the air attack of April 15. Caught in the roundup, and in many cases unbeknownst to Cuban intelligence, were thousands of anti-Castro underground.

The "revolutionary defense corps"—made up of civilian militiamen and women, military intelligence agents, the secret service and volunteer informers organized on a city block-by-block system—reportedly acted on a plan drafted by Alberto Bayo, self-styled general in the Spanish Republican army. One-eyed, stocky, Bay, 62, trained Castro's forces in Mexico for the 1956 invasion of Cuba that led to the ouster of Fulgencio Batista.

"We lost millions of dollars in cash and equipment," the imprisoned underground lead told this reporter. "Hundreds of us could also lose our lives if Fidel decides to start executions again."

Coup Puts Deep Wound In U.S.-Korea Relations

SEOUL, Korea (UPI— The seizure of power by the military junta has put a deep wound in American-Korean relations that may take a long time to heal, observers said Tuesday.

It also has threatened the existence of the United Nations Command—which was formed and financed by the United States to save and protect the Republic of South Korea from Communist aggressions.

The generals carried out the coup in spite of the efforts by top American military and diplomatic officials here to save the government of former Premier John M. Chang. And despite the junta's pledge to strive for even closer ties with the United States, it thus far has showed few signs of cooperating with Gen. Carter B. Magruder, commander-in-chief of U.N. and U.S. forces in Korea.

The observers said it was ironic that the men who knew best how vital a role the United Nations—and the United States—played in saving the country from the Communists should put American-Korean relations at their lowest point in years and endanger the U.N. command.

Present relations were described as somewhat "sticky," although U.S. agencies were continuing on a sort of "business as usual" operation. The observers said the relationship between the junta and the U.N. command eventually may be smoothed over.

The huge stake the United States has in the country and the role it plays in holding the line against Communism makes it imperative that close ties continue. But it had become clear that the new military regime is going to have to prove itself before it can win the confidence and complete support of the Americans again.

The United States is understood to have adopted a position that it will cooperate with the new regime to the extent of reciprocal cooperation. Thus far, the junta has shown little inclination for any real close cooperation.

Graham Taken Ill

LONDON (UPI) — American evangelist Billy Graham is suffering from a severe respiratory infection, his London doctors said Wednesday.

The physicians said they were using antibiotics to fight the infection. An assistant to the 42-year-old evangelist said Graham hopes to be well enough to begin a rally in North England next week.

Graham was ordered to bed Tuesday, just 20 minutes before he was scheduled to address the opening meeting of his fifth British "Crusade for Christ" in London.

REFUGEE FROM ANGOLA—Small Angolan baby refugee sits in a cardboard box and cries at Kimpese, The Congo, after a party of refugees of which it is a member arrived from nearby strife-torn Portuguese colony of Angola after an eight-day march. Electronic "Miracle Of The Bells" Provides Boom In Carillon Music

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A San Francisco department store, a Detroit bank, a New England university, a private chamber at Vatican City.

These are but a few of the places which today are giving melodic testimony to a musical revolution taking place around the world within recent years — the revolutionary sound of bells.

However, where once these sounds were produced only by multi-toned, cast bronze bells, or carillons, today they're being produced electronically.

As short a time ago as the mid-1930s in the United States there were only 60 churches that could afford to have carillons. For a set of 25 cast bronze bells — the usual minimum number — then cost $120,000 and required an expensive tower capable of supporting 40 or more tons of swinging metal.

Since the end of World War II almost 6,000 modern carillons have been installed around the world, almost 5,000 of them in the United States.

The "miracle of the bells" has been brought about largely through the pioneering efforts of a former Philadelphia radio engineer, George Schulmerich, who developed the system of electronically amplified music.

A Schulmerich Carillon, which is played in much the same manner as an organ, operates on this principal: Slim bronze rods, weighing from ⅜ of an ounce to 8 ounces, are struck with a miniature hammer and reflect barely audible but pure bell tones. These tones are then amplified from hundreds of thousands to millions of times.

A 25-set carillon can be purchased for under $3,000, the complete installation weighs less than 200 pounds and takes up less space than an ordinary organ console. Anyone with a knowledge of music can learn to play it adequately in a week's time.

While carillonic music has always been associated with religion, more and more business institutions are employing it in order to "project a proper image to their customers."

A Midwest savings and loan association uses carillon music as a weather barometer. Its carillon plays "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" on a nice day; "Stormy Weather" means rain and "Button Up Your Overcoat" forecasts cold.

Schulmerich backs the stand taken by a carillonneur for a large department store last Christmas who refused to play rock 'n' roll music, which some teenagers had requested.

"A carillon just wasn't made for that," he said.

Washington Co. Ups Teachers' Pay $200

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Washington County Commissioners Tuesday raised by $200 the salaries of the county's 800 teachers.

Members of the Board of Education, however, had requested increases as high as $600. The commissioners said they felt they could not raise the additional funds.

The $200 boost will be financed by the revenue due the county from bills enacted by the 1961 General Assembly—slightly more than $160,000.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Contemporary teenage girls fall into one of nine fashion categories.

At the one end of the list is the "girl-next-door" type. At the other is the "elegant" type.

In between types range from the "pixie" to the "conservative, quiet."

The experts who say so are Eleanor Lambert and Isabel Brady, New York fashion authorities. They wrote a new fashion for young America, "Your Dream Wardrobe."

The guide is one of a series of fashion primers issued as a consumer service by the union label program of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Following are the fashion prescriptions for the various types:

Girl-Next-Door: Simple, classic styles, perhaps boy-coats or shirtwaist dresses, with the air of the ingenue about them. Examples: sweet, pretty ginghams, small checks, dainty prints, blouses and skirts in fresh colors; a well-scrubbed look, with hair, makeup and accessories that complement this look.

Pixie: Clothes that are fun, with touches of whimsy in coiffure, and accessories, like the pixie haircut and fun-hats, amusing printed blouses and "mad" sweaters; costume jewelry that is gay.

Dreamy, Romantic: Lovely, soft colors and fabrics are this girl's special cup of tea—deep, rich reds and purples or pale lilacs, deep pinks; silks and satins and richly printed cottons or patterned wools. Hooded coats or jackets, stoles and exotic scarves suit her; even in sports clothes or on the beach she will look her type in soft colors.

Outdoor Girl: Casual, easy styles are this girl's fashion or linen — paired with interesting tops and a big pin on a pocket, lots of gold bracelets.

Sophisticated: This is the city girl at heart who believes in fashion perfection and the very newest styles. Sleek, slim silhouettes, the little nothing dress, very sophisticated hats and perhaps a bright red coat suit her.

Individualist: This girl has a lot of the pixie in her but she's careful not to look beatnik or sloppy. Mainly she achieves her individual look by combining the basic elements of her wardrobe in unusual ways. She makes her own fashion.

Conservative and Quiet: If you are this girl, it does not mean you or your clothes are from Dullsville. It does mean you will be very smart, but quietly so. Accepted fashions in new versions, new fabrics or colors are right. For instance, the slim shirtwaist dress or the semi-fitted sheath with neck and fitted sheath with high neck and no sleeves, perhaps topped by a short jacket.

Career Girl: Here is the girl with the chance to live up to the full potential of what American fashion provides in style and quality for a small investment. She can build her wardrobe around a winter coat one year, a fall suit the next, and rotate her purchases accordingly. Her accessories are the best she can afford but never showy or gaudy; her handbag for work is roomy. She is sure to have good pearls, fresh cotton gloves and the right shade of stockings to suit her skin tone. She never wears a too-low or too-tight dress.

Elegant: The girl who likes distilled perfection born of complete knowledge of what will make her look her best plus what is newest, is the only one who can aim to be called elegant. She has the bearing of a princess.

Committee Handled Government In '55

NEW YORK (AP)—For two months following former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, writes Sherman Adams, the government was managed by an unofficial committee consisting of himself, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of Staet John Foster Dulles, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey and presidential aide Wilton Persons.

Adams, who served as Eisenhower's assistant from 1952 to 1958, tells—in his memoirs for Life magazine — what happened following the first of three Eisenhower illnesses while he was in the White House.

Adams says: "There never was a move on the part of any of us to 'seize power' or to take an unwarranted action that Eisenhower would have disapproved. We made sure that normal activities of the government went on as usual."

After Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, says Adams, "the President placed in his file a letter to the vice president covering an understanding between them of the procedure that would be followed in the event of a presidential disability."

"I never saw the letter myself, but the President told me about it one day in conversation," he added.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Contemporary teenage girls fall into one of nine fashion categories.

At the one end of the list is the "girl-next-door" type. At the other is the "elegant" type.

In between types range from the "pixie" to the "conservative, quiet."

The experts who say so are Eleanor Lambert and Isabel Brady, New York fashion authorities. They wrote a new fashion for young America, "Your Dream Wardrobe."

The guide is one of a series of fashion primers issued as a consumer service by the union label program of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union.

Following are the fashion prescriptions for the various types:

Girl-Next-Door: Simple, classic styles, perhaps boy-coats or shirtwaist dresses, with the air of the ingenue about them. Examples: sweet, pretty ginghams, small checks, dainty prints, blouses and skirts in fresh colors; a well-scrubbed look, with hair, makeup and accessories that complement this look.

Pixie: Clothes that are fun, with touches of whimsy in coiffure, and accessories, like the pixie haircut and fun-hats, amusing printed blouses and "mad" sweaters; costume jewelry that is gay.

Dreamy, Romantic: Lovely, soft colors and fabrics are this girl's special cup of tea—deep, rich reds and purples or pale lilacs, deep pinks; silks and satins and richly printed cottons or patterned wools. Hooded coats or jackets, stoles and exotic scarves suit her; even in sports clothes or on the beach she will look her type in soft colors.

Outdoor Girl: Casual, easy styles are this girl's fashion or linen — paired with interesting tops and a big pin on a pocket, lots of gold bracelets.

Sophisticated: This is the city girl at heart who believes in fashion perfection and the very newest styles. Sleek, slim silhouettes, the little nothing dress, very sophisticated hats and perhaps a bright red coat suit her.

Individualist: This girl has a lot of the pixie in her but she's careful not to look beatnik or sloppy. Mainly she achieves her individual look by combining the basic elements of her wardrobe in unusual ways. She makes her own fashion.

Conservative and Quiet: If you are this girl, it does not mean you or your clothes are from Dullsville. It does mean you will be very smart, but quietly so. Accepted fashions in new versions, new fabrics or colors are right. For instance, the slim shirtwaist dress or the semi-fitted sheath with neck and fitted sheath with high neck and no sleeves, perhaps topped by a short jacket.

Career Girl: Here is the girl with the chance to live up to the full potential of what American fashion provides in style and quality for a small investment. She can build her wardrobe around a winter coat one year, a fall suit the next, and rotate her purchases accordingly. Her accessories are the best she can afford but never showy or gaudy; her handbag for work is roomy. She is sure to have good pearls, fresh cotton gloves and the right shade of stockings to suit her skin tone. She never wears a too-low or too-tight dress.

Elegant: The girl who likes distilled perfection born of complete knowledge of what will make her look her best plus what is newest, is the only one who can aim to be called elegant. She has the bearing of a princess.

A Space Poet!

Committee Handled Government In '55

NEW YORK (AP)—For two months following former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, writes Sherman Adams, the government was managed by an unofficial committee consisting of himself, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of Staet John Foster Dulles, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey and presidential aide Wilton Persons.

Adams, who served as Eisenhower's assistant from 1952 to 1958, tells—in his memoirs for Life magazine — what happened following the first of three Eisenhower illnesses while he was in the White House.

Adams says: "There never was a move on the part of any of us to 'seize power' or to take an unwarranted action that Eisenhower would have disapproved. We made sure that normal activities of the government went on as usual."

After Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, says Adams, "the President placed in his file a letter to the vice president covering an understanding between them of the procedure that would be followed in the event of a presidential disability."

"I never saw the letter myself, but the President told me about it one day in conversation," he added.

Wall Street Views

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street appeared Tuesday to have shaken off some of the worries stirred by the Supreme Court decision that Du Pont must give up its 23 per cent interest in General Motors.

Involved are 63 million shares worth about $3 billion.

Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. said that if the market had been in a weakened technical position the disturbance could have had widespread repercussions.

But he feels the market treated the decision more as a news disturbance from which a near-term recovery might be expected to occur.

Granville pointed out that the Du Pont block of GM stock sold on the open market would be equivalent to an average daily volume of 26,000 shares for 10 years—the period in which the divesture must be completed—added to the current daily volume of GM stock sales.

"The Supreme Court decision is not expected to change the underlying trend of the market or the rising price trend for the shares involved at this time," he said.

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. commented that the whole issue is confused by the matter of tax liability.

He said that since this is an involuntary distribution, some have thought it might be fair to follow the precedent of the public utility company breakups and legislate capital gains tax exemptions accordingly.

"Of course, both GM and du Pont stocks have been under the shadow of this divestment uncertainty for a long time," he added. "The situation would appear to be about the same except that the Supreme Court has said, 'Hurry Up'."

Bright Steel Picture Painted

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—The editor-in-chief of Iron Age Magazine painted a bright picture Tuesday for the steel industry in the first half of next year.

Tom Campbell said whether or not a steel strike occurs in 1962 "all steel users will be rushing into the market early next year to stock up as a hedge. As a result, he said, many steel customers will have to order much farther ahead than they are now doing.

Campbell made his remarks at a meeting of the Past Presidents Club, American Supply & Machinery Manufacturers Association.

The head of the influential steel publication said the move to boost inventories "will come at a time when construction, home building, oil and gas recovery, heavy auto buying, a record in instalment buying are showing up and when a general impact from government pump-priming and deficit spending will have made itself felt."

"What happens in the last six months of next year depends on the length of a steel strike, if there is one, and on the outlook for international tensions," Campbell said.

"Certainly the momentum of the first six months activity will carry the economy forward in the latter part of next year," he added.

Chiefly responsible for the Zouave fad in the U.S.A. was Elmer Ellsworth, a showman who had formed a Zouave exhibition troupe and toured the country with it for fees.

Ellsworth was to be one of the first casualties of the conflict. He was shot down in May 1861, when he impulsively sought to tear a Rebel flag from a tavern roof in Alexandria, Va.—Clark Kinnaird.

Teams of doctors, nurses and lay helpers will visit public schools Thursday, June 1, to administer the oral polio vaccine to pupils.

The clinics for the general public will be held during the two following days. Doctors are urging that all persons from three months to 45 years of age receive the vaccine, but nobody will be turned away because of his age. People who live in areas surrounding Allegany and Garrett counties also will be welcome.

Meanwhile, the medical society has issued a call for 500 women volunteers to handle registration and other paper work a the 17 centers. Women who are interested may register by notifying their neighborhood PTA presidents, specifying the hours during which they will be available. About 40 women, working in relays, will be needed for each center.

Archbishop Bows Out

LONDON (UPI)—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who is about to leave an office that boasted its first holder more than 1,300 years ago, preached his last public sermon Wednesday as the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Dr. Fisher took the opportunity of Commonwealth Day to tell a St. Paul's Cathedral congregation that included Princess Margaret that the greatness of Britain rested on a "belief in freedom. . ."

The 74-year-old Archbishop retires next week after 16 years as primate of all England. His successor, Dr. Arthur Michael Ramsay, now the Archbishop of York, will be enthroned as the 100th Archbishop of Canterbury on June 27.

Bees make the humming and buzzing sounds by vibrating their wings rapidly.

Stuffed Elephant Returns

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—As any old timer will tell you, the circus life isn't easy but it's a tough business to quit for good.

Even for a dead elephant.

Alice the circus elephant died in Baraboo, Wis., a town once known as the "Mother of Circuses," on Aug. 27, 1912.

Alice was stuffed and put in the Milwaukee Museum. There she stood, alone, surrounded only by a wire fence. A simple sign explained she was an elephant, though no one ever doubted it.

Not much glamour in that for a girl used to the excitement of the Big Top.

It also bothered museum director Stephan F. Borhegyi. For all the space she took up, Alice wasn't a very interesting exhibit.

So now Alice is back in show business, in a manner of speaking. Wearing a gaudy green and gold circus blanket and surrounded by sawdust, Alice has become part of a circus exhibit being put together on the second floor of the museum.

Plaque For Oscar

LONDON (UPI)—A white marble plaque commemorating Oscar Hammerstein II was unveiled in London's Southwark Cathedral Wednesday by his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Hammerstein.

Richard Rodgers, long-time collaborator of the composer of "South Pacific" and "Annie Get Your Gun," attended the ceremony. Constance Shacklock, who plays the Mother Abbess in the London cast of Hammerstein's last play, "the sound of music," sang a hymn at the dedication.

The commemorative plaque bears the inscription "To the glory of God and in memory of Oscar Hammerstein, 1895-1960 citizen of the United States of America, playwright and lyricist. The Hammerstein Chanters were established 24th May 1961."

PROPER MORTGAGE

NEW YORK (UPI) — A real estate rule of thumb indicates that a homeowner should have an annual gross income of about half the amount of his original mortgage, according to housing authorities at Allied Chemical Corp's Barrett Division.

DIME STORE GEMS

NEW YORK (UPI) — S. S. Kresge Co., a five and dime store chain, is hoping to cash in on the nation's prosperity. It has established a "genuine diamond and 14-carat gold jewelry department." Cheapest item is a $7.77 diamond pendant. Most expensive —a $99 diamond ring.

SPACE USERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Merchandise, apparel and furniture stores today use about 260 million square feet of warehousing space and this is expected to increase at an annual rate of about 6.5 million square feet, according to the National Retail Merchants Association.

Savannah, Ga., is said to have been the birthplace of golf in America.

Market Finishes Lower Despite Afternoon Rally

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks finished lower Wednesday, despite a late rally which partially restored values following a sudden midday plunge.

Heavy trading during the lunch hour sell-off swelled market volume for the session to 3,970,000 shares. This was 310,000 shares more than the day before but the session was still one o fthe slowest in the past three months.

As American Telephone and Du Pont went — so went the market. The two blue chips were off more than half-a-dozen at their noon hour low but closed showing losses of only 3⅛ and 2½, respectively.

Losses in these stocks along with a 1⅞-point drop in Alcoa gernated a 4.07 point decline in the Dow-Jones industrial average which closed at 696.52.

Rails closed at 146.08 off 0.41 and utilities at 113.65 up 0.43, reflecting a 5⅝ point jump in Commonwealth Edison.

The comprehensive Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a decline of 0.42, indicating an overall decline in market values of around $2.6 billion.

The market broadened out to 1,300 issues traded—13 more than in the prior session but 25 less than on the same day last week. A total of 443 issues advanced, 46 to new highs, while 613 declined, 12 to new lows.

A Hot Dispute

MANILA (UPI) — Fire Chief Capt. Eulogio Samio has submitted his resignation because of charges his crews demanded payments before fighting last week's $50 million blaze in Manila.

Manila newspapers quoted Chinese businessmen as saying firemen delayed fighting the fire until bribes totaling $100,000 were paid.

The city government urged Samio to stay in his post.

Red Press Notes "Arena Of Terror"

MOSCOW (UPI) —The local Moscow press broke its silence on the Alabama race riots Tuesday with a front-page Izvestia spread headlined: "Arena Of Terror. . . American Nazis Raising Heads."

Although Radio Moscow has been giving fairly full treatment to the Montgomery strife, Moscow's newspapers had almost ignored the incidents. Observers believed the papers were going out of their way to avoid anti-American propaganda in the days before the Kennedy-Khrushchev summit at Vienna.

The operators must use telephones to converse on the vehicle.

AMERICA'S NOMADS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unconventional housing, including mobile homes and travel trailers, has become a significant part of the nation's housing supply, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce. The latest figures show that more than 3 million persons were living in mobile homes, and that in each of the past two years the production of these homes accounted for about one out of every 14 dwelling units built.

SURPRISE!

NEW YORK (UPI) — It may come as a surprise to some people to learn that food prices have been one of the most stable of major family budget items, according to the Grocery Manufacturers of America.

Based on the standard "market basket" which the government uses to measure price trends, prices at the grocery store in 1960 averaged about 2 per cent below 1958 and about the same as in 1952.

County Lions Club Send Delegates To Convention

Four of the five Lions clubs in Allegany County will be represented by official delegates at the 39th annual convention of District 22 in Atlantic City. The sessions got under way yesterday and run through Saturday.

John L. Conway, deputy district governor, said District 22 comprises all of the clubs in Maryland and the District of Columbia, and parts of Virginia.

Delegates who will represent the Cumberland club at the conclave include William G. Barger, president; Earl D. Grim, president-elect; Dr. E. W. Larson, Louis V. Shinnamon, Winfield H. Adam, David P. Goodfellow, Robert W. Moreland, W. Dale Timmons, J. Thomas Moore and Frank W. Spoerl.

The LaVale club will be represented by Conway, Floyd V. (Sam) Cozad, president-elect; Harry E. White, Harold Everline and Lorimer Twigg, convention chairman.

Daniel Shupe, president of the Frostburg club, will be the lone delegate of that unit, while Harry Bosley will represent the Lonaconing club. Bosley is chairman of Zone 2, Region 1, of the Lions District.

Conway said the wives of most of the delegates will also attend the convention, explaining that a women's program has been arranged during the convention sessions.

The only Lions club that will not be represented at the conclave is the Potomac Valley Club of Cresaptown, with spokesmen for that unit explaining that it is planned to send delegates to the Lions International convention next month at Atlantic City.

Highlight of the convention will be the election of district governors on the concluding day of the convention. Conway said the only announced candidate for the District 22-W position is Arthur Moats, Hagerstown, chairman of the Roaring Springs Club and member of the Halfway Club.

Headquarters for the convention is Chalfonte-Haddon Hall Hotel, where the district governor's dinner will be held this evening. The present governor for District 22-W is Harry Dougherty, Taneytown.

Friday schedule of activities, Conway said, includes a luncheon at which the principal speaker will be Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League. Representatives of the affiliated teams also will attend, Conway stated.

Street Work Will Resume Here Today

The improvement program for Cumberland's streets and alleys will resume today according to City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum.

Employes of the City Street Department, he explained, have completed grading Hawthorne Alley off Hill Top Drive, and the Cumberland Contracting Company is expected to begin blacktopping the alley tomorrow.

The contracting company will then move its men and equipment to Columbia Street for resurfacing work, Nuzum stated. A new catch basin has been installed on Columbia Street by city employes, preliminary to the blacktopping, he said.

Other work, including the renewal of service lines by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, also has been completed on Columbia Street, Nuzum said, explaining that the firm scheduled the work when notified of the resurfacing project.

City crews also have completed some of the preliminary work in connection with the relocation of the large water main on Long Hill. This is required because of work lined up by the Maryland State Roads Commission in connection with the Cumberland Thruway.

Since a number of residences on Long Hill would be affected by the line relocation and subsequent road work, Nuzum said service lines to the homes are being rerouted.

The Orrie R. Sensabaugh contracting firm, which has been granted the contract for the water line relocation, informed city officials that it hopes to have the service lines to homes completed well ahead of the impending road work.

It is expected that the pipe for the new water line will arrive early next month, Nuzum stated.

The Cumberland Contracting Company has been awarded the contract for the Long Hill road improvement.

Pacifists Make Camp

DUNOON, Scotland (UPI)—About 30 diehard anti-Polaris demonstrators set up a permanent camp on the shores of Holy Loch Wednesday to harass America's missile-carrying atomic submarines.

The campers erected tents and a 40-foot flagpole above the beach a couple of hundred yards from where the U.S. submarine depot ship Proteus is permanently moored. The atomic submarine George Washington lay alongside the Proteus preparing for a two-month undersea patrol.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges warned Wednesday that other industrialized countries "are surpassing us" in foreign trade.

He urged American businessmen to "wake up" to foreign market opportunities.

Hodges told a World Trade luncheon that since 1953, the United States "has been fourth from lowest among all industrialized nations" in its percentage increase in exports.

Meeting Set Tomorrow On County Water Problem

A meeting has been scheduled for Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the Court House at which matters pertaining to water supply for various sections of the county will be discussed.

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners, Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Josiah Mullenax and F. Patrick Allender of the Central Labor Council, Robert Petersen, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, and a number of other officials are expected to attend.

County Commissioner John T. Mason said one of the items on the agenda will be the possibility of obtaining water from the city during an interim period while a pipeline is constructed from Savage River Dam.

The Upper Potomac River Commission Tuesday informed the county commissioners that up to 36,000,000 gallons of water daily, or more if it is needed, could be obtained from the Savage River source.

The Upper Potomac River unit said that the Army Corps of Engineers will be contacted to seek concurrence with the plan to provide water to the county.

Water is being requested by Allegany Ballistics Laboratory and also for several housing developments both in the Cresaptown area and in the LaVale section. County officials said they hope to have legislative action readied for submission to a special session of the General Assembly in the event the governor calls for such a session sometime in July.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was experimenting with jet-powered flying propellers, which he called "winged fly-wheels" more than a decade before the Wright brothers made their first successful flight at Kitty Hawk.

City Planning To Convert Parking Area

The City Police Department is advancing plans for the conversion of a city-owned lot in back of the Girl Scout House on Greene Street as a metered parking lot.

Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming said it is expected that the lot will be in operation some time after the middle of June, depending on the awarding of a contract for the meters.

Space on the parking lot will be reserved for about 15 physicians and dentists in the Greene Street area, the commissioner explained, adding that the space will be reserved on a rental basis.

The space for the professional men will be strictly enforced, Commissioner Fleming said, adding that the cars of violators will be towed away.

He continued that at least 50 meters will be installed on the Greene Street lot, explaining that the ones which will be ordered will allow up to five hours of parking. Such installation, Fleming said, will permit workers in the downtown area to return in time to avoid being "ticketed" for overtime parking.

The area will be patrolled by one of the Police Department's scooters, the commissioner said. The work will tie in with a scheduled patrol of the West Side region, particularly around the shift time at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

Aim of the new patrol area will be to speed the flow of Kelly workers so that the streets will be clear by the time traffic from the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Company reaches the downtown thoroughfares.

Besides the Greene Street lot, Commissioner Fleming said additional meters will be installed on Washington Street from Prospect Square to Smallwood Street.

Clue Being Checked In Armed Robbery

City and county authorities yesterday were checking out a clue in the armed robbery of the Allegany Liquor Store, Frederick Street, on March 18.

Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney Tuesday received a letter from Chief Francis P. McGranaghan of Manchester, N. H., stating that a Manchester girl has related a story about the holdup.

The crime occurred after a train had struck a car at the intersection of Frederick and Henderson Avenue. Two "young" men walked into the liquor store, pulled pistols on J. Milton Dick, the owner, and took cash from his register.

At the time, Dick, a former trial magistrate, informed authorities that between $250 and $300 was stolen by the young men.

Chief McGranaghan's letter informed local authorities that the girl claims she and a girl friend remained in the car while their "boy friends" robbed the store.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, Det. Capt. James E. Van and Det. Thomas See yesterday were checking out the girl's story. No arrests have been made.

ADA Is Mistaken About Red China

Displaying remarkable innocence of the United Nations Charter, Americans for Democratic Action joins the claque advocating a UN seat for Red China.

As a preliminary step, ADA would have the United States initiate negotiations toward diplomatic recognition of the Communist regime in Peiping.

The ADA thus aligns itself with the pessimistic school that believes diplomatic recognition and UN membership for Red China are inevitable. But aside from the moral issues involved, there is the little matter of admission requirements that must be considered.

Contrary to popular belief, the United Nations was not intended to have universal membership, but—by Article Four of the Charter — offers membership to "peace-loving states which accept the obligations contained in the present charter and, in the judgment of the organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations."

Variously occupied by mass murder at home, genocide in Tibet, land poaching along the Indian border, promoting war in Laos and shelling the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu, Peiping hardly seems qualified for UN membership by Charter standards.

Nor should it be overlooked that the Chinese Communists are technically still at war with the UN in Korea, where an armistice—not peace—has stopped the fighting.

Recognition and UN membership for Red China are only as inevitable as Washington permits them to be.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Censorship!

For some reason, all of a sudden, more and more public officials are proposing some form of censorship of the press. Apparently, they are becoming increasingly fearful that the people will, in due course, know what goes on and will protest. Such a protest could swell into anger. An angry people can do unpleasant things to politicians, particularly in this country. They can and usually do throw them out of office.

John A. Fanning, a member of the National Labor Relations Board, was making a speech before the Southern Newspaper Executives' Clinic. He said that the N.L.R.B. tries to conduct bargaining rights elections without undue pressure. In a word, he prefers a vacuum. Fanning did not say so, but he apparently believes that only management and labor are concerned in a strike situation. He does not recognize that the consumer is equally affected by the outcome; that the general public is worried what a strike will do to the town, to the small businessmen, to grocers, butchers, beauticians, etc.

Fanning, not being concerned with the public interest, can say:

"In the midst of labor disputes, the immediate parties may be torn by various loyalties, desires and even fears. They may look for guidance to any voice that speaks with authority—and the editorial page is such a voice."

Apparently, because the newspaper may speak in the name of the public interest and may be believed, the newspapers should be silent, should say nothing about what may be the most important question before that particular community.

The report does not say that those who attended this meeting of newspaper executives booed and hissed this bureaucrat when he proposed that newspapers be silent about the news. The probability is that when Fanning was through with his speech, he was duly applauded and perhaps even invited to dinner.

There is too little anger in this country, too few of us who have decided not to listen to nonsense, not to be pushed around by politicians and bureaucrats. Too many of us sit back and applaud whatever we listen to, even if it is a direct insult to our rights and our intelligence.

What is the value of a newspaper if it does not provide the truth in the news "guidance" in understanding the course of events? Is it just a jumble of words and pictures that are unrelated to each other and that provide neither meaning nor guidance?

It is because of lack of indignation on the part of our people that the Teheran papers have not yet been published. It is because of lack of indignation that the American people do not yet have the whole story of what happened in Cuba. Senator Gore opened the window a little bit but not enough to give the American people a full view of the confusion and bad thinking that produced what has come popularly to be called the Cuban Fiasco.

But what about the Laotian Fiasco and the Korean Fiasco? How many fiascos must we have before Congress asks for a public explanation? Executive sessions hide nothing from our enemies; they were there and know what happened. Executive sessions of a congressional committee only fool the American people. They make them believe that much is being done; actually nothing is done about errors, stupidities, political back-scratching until the public gets very angry. And the public only gets angry when the press tells the whole story, honestly and completely. The Cuban story has not yet been told honestly and completely.

Whenever a public official wants the press to establish any form of censorship, his plea is not in the public interest. Freedom is preserved only through the people, and the people have the moral and constitutional right to know what is being done to their country by their officials. Anyone who brings the truth to the surface is performing a service—no matter how ugly the truth may be. Suppression and censorship, voluntary or involuntary, are evils in a republic.

Fortunately, we have a variegated press, which consists not only of newspapers, but includes magazines, radio and television and other media of communications and therefore, it is very difficult really to suppress the generality of the truth, but the details often are withheld. That is why the Teheran papers have not been published.

Nuclear Tests Ban Clouds Meeting Of Two Ks

By Joseph Alsop

GENEVA

In a considerable measure, the outlook for the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Vienna depends upon the real meaning of a major mystery here in Geneva.

This is because the President's most important sounding of Khrushchev's intentions will concern the interminable Geneva negotiations for a ban on nuclear tests. If the Soviet Premier does not agree to get these negotiations back on the rails, American nuclear testing will almost certainly be resumed. And the outlook for any other kind of East-West agreement will become darker than ever.

Thus it is vital to discover why the Soviets recently derailed the test-ban negotiations. Anyone who seeks the solution of this mystery must begin with the fact that the negotiations have by now passed through three sharply contrasting phases.

In the first phase, now long past, both sides negotiated enthusiastically and in earnest. The first result was agreement in principle on a general ban on tests. The second, far more important result was agreement in principle on machinery of control, including a worldwide system of international detection stations plus on-site inspections to check on suspected secret tests.

In the second phase, the negotiations were derailed by the American scientists. They discovered that underground tests would be far harder to police than they had initially supposed. This caused the Americans to ask for reinforcement of the control system already agreed on with the Soviets. And this also sparked a renewal of the bitter fight inside the Eisenhower administration between those who wanted a test ban and those who wanted nothing of the sort.

Since President Eisenhower never really resolved the issue within his own government, the American negotiators at Geneva were never again on firm ground until the Eisenhower administration ended. But when President Kennedy took office, the decision was made to use every effort to obtain a test ban, even at some risk.

Kennedy's newly chosen nuclear negotiator, Arthur Dean, the able former friend and law partner of John Foster Dulles, laboriously reconciled the conflicts inside the American government. He also worked out a detailed agreement with British Minister of State David Ormsby Gore and the British nuclear negotiator, Sir Michael Wright. We then offered the Soviets a complete draft treaty which the Kremlin would almost surely have accepted with delight only 18 months earlier.

But by then, unhappily, the third phase of the negotiations had opened. Even before the draft treaty was presented, when the Geneva meetings were first resumed in March, the negotiations had been derailed all over again, this time by the head of the Soviet delegation, Semyon Tsarapkin. The device used was flat rejection of the control machinery long since approved by the Kremlin. Tsarapkin instead demanded a three-headed system of the type also proposed by the Soviets for the United Nations Secretariat.

The three-headed system incorporates a free Soviet veto on any and all measures of control and inspection. This would mean no control at all. Hence the negotiations here have now reached total deadlock.

The basic mystery, therefore, is why the Soviets so suddenly changed their position, abruptly killing all hope of the agreement which they had once been most anxious to get. The Soviet motives for so eagerly seeking an agreement in the past are the best place to look for a clue to the mystery. The primary effect of a ban on tests would be to close the nuclear club. And all the experts agree that the Kremlin's predominant motive for seeking a test ban was to keep Communist China out of the club.

In the first phase, China was expected to join in the test ban. Indeed it was always obvious that any agreement which left out China would be utterly worthless. Control stations were necessary, on-site inspections were needful, in order to include China's great land mass in the general control system. And when the negotiations began, Tsarapkin gave the Western negotiators private but unequivocal assurances that the Chinese would quickly accept any agreement that the Kremlin had already accepted.

When these assurances were given by Tsarapkin, they were probably wholly sincere, and they sounded entirely convincing. But this was long before the bitter quarrel between the Chinese and the Soviets.

A key issue in this dispute is nothing more or less than the Chinese objection to any East-West negotiations of whatever sort. If all negotiations are disliked by the Chinese, they must particularly dislike the test ban negotiations which will have the effect of excluding China from the nuclear club.

Various signs, such as optimistic remarks made by Khrushchev and several Soviet scientists, suggest that the Soviets did not immediately lose hope of a worldwide test ban when the Chinese first attacked the Khrushchev policies last June in Bucharest. It is a fair guess, in fact, that the turning point came at the November meeting of Communist leaders in Moscow. At this meeting the Chinese violently and finally refused to approve Khrushchev's cold war approach despite a huge majority on the other side.

Of course Mao Tse-tung did not thereby "force Khrushchev to change his mind" about negotiations with the West, in the way that is generally supposed. Mao quite certainly does not have that kind of power over Khrushchev. But the case of the test ban negotiations is special. In this particular case the Chinese merely had to tell the Soviets that they could sign any agreement they pleased, but that China would never sign and would never comply.

If the Chinese have done this, the Geneva test ban negotiatians can have no further interest for Khrushchev. For on the one hand, Chinese non-compliance with a test ban agreement will cheat the Kremlin of its prime proposed gain from such an agreement. And on the other hand, if Khrushchev signs the agreement anyway, the U. S. will not ratify the treaty because of Chinese non-compliance; and Khrushchev's incomplete authority in his own camp will also be dramatically revealed to the world.

Assume this is the true solution of the Geneva mystery. Then President Kennedy's planned sounding of Khrushchev's intentions at Vienna has an automatically predictable result. It will amount to asking Khrushchev to get out of a box from which he cannot possibly escape unless he uses force against China.

Inside Washington

HISTORY IN OILS — The Defense Department owns one of the unique art collections of the World War II battle scenes done by combat artists. The collection is valued at about $1.5 million and is mostly of German origin.

The United States employed combat artists for a brief period during World War II, and during the Korean conflict. However, the bulk of the paintings, about two-thirds of them, were executed by Germans during the Hitler regime.

These battle scenes decorate innumerable offices in the Pentagon, Walter Reed Army Hospital, Senate and House Office Buildings and other government offices.

They graphically portray the rise and fall of Nazism. All are neatly numbered and most bear simple titles, such as "Street Fighting in Russia, 1942," "Night View From Trenches," "Prison Camp at East Front," or "Interior of Bombed Building, Berlin, 1943."

They range from idealized likenesses of arrogant Nazi officers to grim, realistic battle scenes which plainly show defeat, despair and tragedy.

Safely locked in the headquarters of the Department's Historical Properties Section are four small watercolors, neatly signed "A. Hitler."

Some Reasons Why Well Babies Regurgitate

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Roger was a happy, robust 4-year-old who ate, and slept well and did everything he was supposed to do at that age. "He is an ideal baby," his mother said, "except that he spits up small amounts of his feeding throughout the day."

Mother was perturbed about the spots on the rugs and furniture and she spent many hours washing baby's clothing and the linens to eliminate the unpleasant odor that permeated them. But the tyke went on cooing, gurgling, and erupting.

There are several reasons why babies regurgitate. Some are serious and require thorough study for diagnosis and correction. Roger was an example of spitting up in a well infant. The stomach is a flexible sac that looks like an oversized pear with an opening at both ends. Food is churned in the stomach 2 to 4 hours before it enters the small intestine.

Infants usually have the same digestive ability as adults do. Fats cause trouble to a few even though they have little or no difficulty with carbohydrates and proteins. This means that some food lags behind and the emptying time is delayed.

Roger proved to be one of these youngsters. Whenever he became active and more exuberant than usual, a small amount was regurgitated periodically. The situation was controlled by removing much of the fat from the practice even though the diet is watched carefully.

The manifestation often disappears spontaneously when the youngster is held erect, as the force of gravity corrects the situation. This is one reason why an Indian mother carries her papoose on her back and may explain the increased popularity of the Infanseat.

The situation is different when vomiting occurs in a baby who is not progressing normally. If allergy is suspected, a change in formula is helpful. Tots who are sensitive to cow's milk, for example, improve quickly when given soybean milk.

X-rays may be needed in others to track down the cause or regurgitation or vomiting. Infants as are not immune to gastrointestinal disease, including peptic ulcer.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Happy ending: A New York family rented a Berkshire estate for the summer, and the lady of the house, an omnivorous reader, applied for membership in the local library. "What bad service I got," she complained to a friend who lived in the town all year round. "I don't think they're on their toes in that library at all, and I hope you'll tell the head librarian just how I feel about her."

The next time the New York lady visited the library, she found that the two newest best sellers had been reserved for her, and what's more, they had set aside a book on tree identification for her husband. "We hear that's his new hobby," smiled the librarian.

The newcomer lost no time in telling her friend of her new experience. "You must have told the librarian how deplorable I considered the service," she hazarded.

"On the contrary," said the friend. "I hope you won't mind—but I told her that you spoiled New Yorkers were simply astonished at how beautifully she maintained a small library with the limited funds available."

Columnist Writes His Grandsons About Visit To President's Office

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his three eldest grandsons, Drew, George Jr., and Joseph Patterson Arnold.)

Washington, D. C.
May 23, 1961

Dear Boys:

The other day I called on the new President of the United States. And, remembering how you used to cheer for Kennedy and Johnson when you saw their automobile stickers during the election, and how you used to groan at Nixon-Lodge stickers, I thought you would be interested in knowing more about the man you were rooting for.

Most of us who called on President Kennedy had known him a long time and in the past had called him by his first name. However, when a man becomes President you instinctively feel differently toward him no matter how well you have known him. For the President of the United States is the most important leader among all the democratic nations. On him, to a considerable extent, depends the kind of a world you boys will live in, and whether you will have to go to war, as your father did and as your grandfather Thurman and I did.

So, although President Kennedy called some of us by our first names, it seemed only natural for us to call him "Mr. President."

Those who called on him were Judge David Bazelon of the U. S. Court of Appeals, on which your Grandfather Thurman Arnold once sat; Judge Luther Youngdahl of the U. S. District Court, who was once Governor of Minnesota; F. Joseph Donohue, former head of the Washington, D. C., government; and Arthur Clarendon Smith—all directors of Big Brothers.

Can't Pass The Buck

I was interested in looking around the President's office to see how much it had changed. It is a very beautiful room, quite simple in its beauty, and the only thing I could see that was changed much was the desk. President Roosevelt always had a lot of donkeys on his desk—about 20 of them, so they took up most of the space.

President Truman had on his desk a sign which read "The buck stops here." This mean that the President can't pass the buck, or responsibility, on to anyone else. It's like those days when the trashman is due and your mother tells Georgie to empty the trash and he forgets and passes the responsibility on to Drew. That's passing the buck.

Well, the President just can't pass the buck. Other government officals down below can do it. They can refer a question on to the Caibnet and the Cabinet can refer it on to the President, but there it stops. The President is the man who must make the decision. He can't pass the buck. And that's one reason his job is so important and why he holds the fate of the world, to a considerable extent, in his hands.

President Kennedy's desk didn't have any donkeys on it, or any signs about "The buck stop here." But I could tell from talking to him and from having watched him handle other problems that he doesn't pass the buck. He makes the decisions.

"Gosh, You're Tall"

For instance, when we invited him to our Big Brother dinner in honor of Edward H. Foley, the chairman of Inauguration Week, who has done so much for the District of Columbia, the President asked: "When would you like to have the dinner?"

We told him sometime in June. He then got up and went into the next room. He didn't push a buzzer for a secretary as most executives do. He got up and went to get his calendar. When he got up, Arthur Clarendon Smith, who is 76 years old, remarked to Mr. Kennedy, who is 44, "Gosh, you're tall."

This is true. The President does look quite tall and slim and in very good health. Mr. Kennedy smiled but said nothing, brought back his calendar and asked: "How about June 7 for the dinner?"

So that, quickly and simply, decided that.

Of course, you realize that this was a fairly easy decision. And you will understand as you get older how very difficult are some of the decisions which the President has to make. Because if he makes a mistake it can hurt not merely him, but you and me and your father and mother and the entire country. That's why he has to be so careful. Yet he also has to be decisive. He has to make grave decisions, sometimes very quickly. He can't duck responsibility. "The buck," as Mr. Truman said, "stops" right at the President's desk.

The most important difference I noted between Mr. Kennedy and other Presidents I have talked to is that he doesn't do very much talking. He listens—and asks questions.

President Roosevelt didn't do this, and neither did President Eisenhower. They both talked at great length whenever you went in to see them. They were charming talkers and Roosevelt had a great stock of stories about his past experiences.

Both he and Eisenhower sometimes talked so long that their callers ended up without saying hardly anything. This is fine with some callers who haven't much to say anyway, but it isn't a very good idea at Cabinet meetings.

President Kennedy, on the other hand, talks little, listens carefully, and asks questions. This is not a bad rule for you boys to follow.

However, this letter is getting too long, and I'll tell you about some of the things we discussed with him in another letter, perhaps tomorrow. Because the chief thing we talked about was helping little boys to be good boys.

Lots of Love,
Your Grandfather.

Freedom Riders

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — There is a constitutional right to free speech, but—as the Supreme Court has said—there is no right falsely to cry "fire!" in a crowded theater.

There is a constitutional right to demonstrate, but not a right to provoke or incite people to riot.

There is a constitutional right to assemble in a hall to espouse any cause, but not a right to organize a "sit-in" demonstration for the express purpose of using private property—against the wishes of the owners — to stir up passions and create incidents of distorder.

For decades now the American people have been denouncing "lynch" rule and mob action, and the cry has been for adherence to constitutional law and the orderly procedures of the courts.

But what happened in Alabama over the weekend reveals clearly that incitement to riot is the fundamental cause of the trouble. Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, not many months ago, rightly refused to give a permit to a rabble-rouser who wanted to defend the Nazi point of view at meetings in the heart of the metropolis, where the bulk of the population was bound to resent such statements and perhaps be stimulated to mob action.

It was all very well for civic groups later to argue that a permit should have been granted by the mayor and that the champion of Nazi doctrines had a right to free speech, but the mayor knew what the consequences would be and acted wisely. Alabama's attorney general has just told the same rabble-rouser to keep out of the state.

Today the federal government under the Kennedy administration has made the same mistake at Montgomery as did the Eisenhower administration at Little Rock. Both refused to let local authorities deal with the situation. The more than 400 federal marshals, fully armed, who were mobilized in Montgomery last Sunday were, as Senator Dirksen of Illinois says, hardly different from federal troops.

There are, of course, plenty of legalisms involved. At Little Rock the governor of Arkansas ordered out the National Guard to prevent mob violence around the school. But the federal government construed this as an impediment to the enforcement of a federal court order on desegregation of public schools.

In Alabama a court order issued by an Alabama state judge had called on the so-called "freedom riders" to abstain from their demonstrations on buses which had been advertised in advance and were certain to stir up trouble. Notwithstanding the existence of this state court order, the federal government intervened with federal marshals, claiming that "law and order" had broken down.

Indeed, an 1871 federal statute was cited by the U. S. Department of Justice as authority for the step, though this law specifically refers to federal intervention only where there is "insurrection" or "domestic violence" due to a refusal or inability of a state to grant protection. It can hardly be said that the action of a mob, even though some negligence is temporarily displayed by local police, constitutes such an "insurrection" in a constitutional sense. On the contrary, the governor of Alabama recognized the right of the bus to engage in interstate travel and the right of passengers on the bus to be protected. Just how this gets to be "insurrection" is hard to understand. Neither the governor nor the Legislature requested the federal intervention as the Constitution prescribes must be done when "domestic violence" develops beyond the state's control.

It is true that the U. S. Attorney General and the governor of Alabama discussed beforehand the events leading up to the crisis on Saturday, but this does not justify federal intervention any more than it justifies mob action. Unless the regular processes of the law are permitted to take their course, the whole thing just becomes an emotional spectacle with politics and the bid for votes in the populous Northern states playing its part, both under a Democratic and a Republican national administration.

If, as Supreme Court decisions in the past have indicated, there is a right of any citizen to travel through a state or inside a state without color discrimination on vehicles of transportation, the proper course for the aggrieved parties is to apply for court orders. Long drawn out as the cases might be, the necessary court support would be forthcoming and arrests for contempt for violating court orders would follow as a routine procedure.

To say that "all this takes too much time," and that "we have waited long enough" is exactly what the mobs used to argue passionately as they prepared to lynch a rapist. The cry was then heard: "He's guilty anyhow, why wait for the courts!"

Unfortunately, the Fourteenth Amendment, under which "equal protection of the law" has been fostered, was itself "ratified" at the point of the bayonet when, three years after the Civil War was over, the Southern States were coerced—by militiamen sitting in the state legislatures—into "ratifying" the amendment. The Constitution itself prescribes a proper method of ratification, and the present generation is suffering 100 years later the consequences of the disregard of the Constitution in the period immediately after the Civil War. The Supreme Court has ruled on many Fourteenth Amendment cases but has consistently refused to pass upon any case involving the legality of the "ratification" of the Fourteenth Amendment itself.

Members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation completed their job of identifying the victims and have left Cumberland.

However, Mr. Kenney has not yet been identified and is listed as missing and presumed dead. His body will be removed to the Hafer Funeral Home when identification has been established.

Lane Will Head Resources Unit In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Republican Warden M. Lane, who originated and babied to fruition the idea for a new West Virginia Department of Natural Resources, will be its first director.

The 40-year-old Lane was appointed Wednesday by Gov. W. W. Barron to the $12,000-a-year post for the initial 18 - month "short term" as director when the department comes into being July 1.

Lane has been director of the Conservation Commission since mid-1957. It and the Water Resources Commission will be absorbed by the new department, as will the Public Land Corporation and strip mine land reclamation authority of the Mines Department.

After the short first term, the director of the department will be appointed to a term of four years.

Lane, a native of Alexander, Upshur County, said he was "elated" over his selection to head the new agency. He attended both West Virginia and Ohio State Universities, receiving his doctorate in 1957 from the latter in agriculture and administration.

Prior to his appointment as conservation director in 1957, Lane was director of field services in charge of off-campus education at Glenville State College.

Barron was "confident" Lane would do a "truly outstanding job." "I am confident this department will progress for the benefit of all West Virginians."

Wants Chance For Education

BALTIMORE (AP)—What does America's modern young scientist want from his community? What does his employer want from the same community?

About 400 representatives of industry, education, business and government attempted to answer those questions Wednesday at a meeting called by Maryland's Economic Development Commission.

There were speakers and panel discussions on such things as liaison between science industries and universities, and how to finance research and development. Participants explored whether educators could help industry recruit professional personnel, or what the commercial banker can do about financing research and development.

Other discussion areas included locational requirements of science industries and what communities can do to give such industries the type of zoning they want.

William B. Bergen, president of the Martin Co., said two ways to lure more scientists would be with more facilities for higher education and more imaginative community development.

Bergen made it clear there's nothing wrong with the quality of education at Johns Hopkins University or the University of Maryland. But he said there simply aren't enough of these facilities.

The Martin official said his Baltimore-based firm, in developing its own advanced educational program, had to turn to Philadelphia because needed help could not be found in Maryland. As an example of success, he mentioned the electronic industry complex near Boston which has grown up in the presence of Harvard, Boston and M.I.T.

"The man we need to attract often has a doctor's degree, or has personally attained notable competence in his field," said Bergen. "He values an environment that can provide him with music and art and good theaters."

Bergen said men who decide where science industries are to locate will look first for "an environment which is vigorously alert: where an intellectual atmosphere of lively discussion is available; where change is embraced, not scorned—in short, an environment where he is welcome, not an intruder."

Powers Will Attend Training Session

The sessions Saturday and Sunday will deal with American-LaFrance equipment.

Fire Chief Virgil Parker said Pipeman Powers will be sent to take similar courses to be offered thoughout the year on equipment of other manufacturers.

W. Va. Pulp Reports Drop In Its Profit

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit of West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co. during the three months ended April 30 amounted to a little more than half the figure for the same period of 1960.

President David L. Luke said the major reason for the drop was the cost of starting operations at new installations.

He reported the company netted $1,601,000, equal to 30 cents a share, on sales of $61,492,000, compared with net of $3,597,000, or 68 cents a share, on sales of $63,715,000.

For the six months ended April 30 earnings fell to $3,293,000, or 61 cents a share, from $6,011,000, or $1.13 a share. Sales rose to $121,669,000 from $120,586,000.

Luke said the dip in earnings in the latest quarter also reflected the downward trend of industry prices. He said he didnt' anticipate much improvement during the seasonally dull quarter ending July 31 but hopes for some upturn during the fall months.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: No problem — just a question. My wife's pet hobby is spending the day going through antique shops. I'm not complaining, mind you — she's a sensible person and never spends more money than she should. But almost every evening when I ask her what she did during the day she replies "I went antique shopping." I ask her what she bought — and she says "Nothing."

Why do women call it shopping if they don't buy anything? — MERE MAN

DEAR MERE: Have you ever heard of men who go fishing? Well—same thing.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've gone steady with a boy ever since we were both seniors in high school. He always wanted to be a doctor and told me it would be a long wait before we could marry.

For the last three years we have been planning to get married next June. Last night he announced that marriage is out of the question until he finishes medical school. This will be in the spring of 1963.

I love him and I know he loves me. He's a wonderful guy but I don't want to wait another two years. How can I prove to him that it could work? — STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: In most medical schools, about 50% of the students are married. If your boy friend wanted proof that it could work all he has to do is look around.

If you are unwilling to wait, date others and invite him to do the same. By the spring of 1963 check back to see if he's still unattached. . .if you are, that is.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have been happily married for four years. We both have good jobs, a nice home, and (so far) no children.

Last night my husband brought home a letter he had received at work. It was from a girl he used to go with many years ago. She says he is the father of her 11-year-old daughter and she'd like him to come to their city (about 100 miles from here) and get acquainted. She also said she took the child to my husband's mother's home twice last month and my mother-in-law said the child was darling and "a picture of her daddy."

I am so upset I don't know what to do. I asked my husband if he was the father and he said he doesn't think so. The fact that he brought me the letter gives me added confidence in him. What should I do? Please help. — JUST SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Your husband needs a lawyer. It seems odd that a woman would wait 11 years to introduce a man to his daughter. If legally he has a financial obligation, of course he must live up to it but there should be no socializing or "getting acquainted." This woman sounds like bad news.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOPEFUL: Since you are looking for a girl who looks like Natalie Wood, I'd like to ask you a question. Do you look like Paul Newman?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "COOL CAT: "Cold Mackerel," you mean. And your fiancee sounds like she could go bear-huntin' with a switch. I think you two deserve each other.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Best supporting actress Shirley Jones not only added Oscar to her happy household, she and Jack Cassidy are expecting their second baby in the late fall.

I couldn't be happier for Shirley and Jack, two of the nicest young people in movietown. I was in on the start of their romance in Rome when they were starring in the foreign revival of "Oklahoma" in Italy and since then I've always felt very close to them.

Shirley and Jack were married in Cambridge, Mass., on Aug. 5, 1956, and have a little son, Shaun, born in September, 1958. You don't need a crystal ball to realize they would welcome a little girl this second time 'round.

Right now Shirley is in the midst of "The Music Man" at Warner Bros., in which she plays the prim librarian, a big switch from her bad girl role that won her the Oscar in "Elmer Gantry."

Things couldn't be worse than they are between producer Brynie Foy and Shirley Knight, his star of "House of Women." Usually these production fights are kept quiet, but Brynie says Shirley is "impossible" and has been hard to handle ever since she was nominated for an Oscar for her supporting role in "Dark at the Top of the Stairs."

Brynie hit the ceiling when he walked on the set the other day and found director Walter Doniger rewriting scenes at Shirley's insistence. In the hassle that followed, he allowed Doniger to resign and replaced him with Crane Wilbur. When Foy walked on the set with the new director, Shirley retired to her dressing room slamming the door.

Let's have no more rock throwing at Hollywood about "new faces" and then never giving them a chance. Walt Disney, who first gave us Haley Mills as well as Carol Lynley and Janet Munro, has sighted another new personality, 18-year-old Lynn Loring and given her the romantic lead with Jane Wyman and Fred MacMurray in "Bon Voyage."

Well, never did a gal get a nicer assignment. The picture shoots aboard the SS United States, in Paris and then on the Riviera starting early in August. Walt spotted the petite (five-foot) brown-eyed Lynn on one of her TV shows out of New York and signed her via long distance for the movies.

Whether I'm in New York or Hollywood, news pops. It was 1:30 in the morning in New York when the call came through about June Allyson's surgery. I do hope it's not as serious as it sounds. Poor June, with her husky voice which was valuable to her as an actress but not for her health, will be out of commission for some time.

Moore cheerful word was that Bob Evans and pretty Sharon Hugueny are getting married on Sunday, removing one more popular bachelor from the favorite escort ranks in Hollywood and New York.

It was sad to hear of the sudden death of Joan Davis. Her friends know that the last years of Joan's life were not happy, but she always thought, to the end, that the rainbow was just around the next hill.

Broadway continues to look more like Hollywood than movietown itself. Doris Day and Marty Melcher are here to see "Mary, Mary," Jean Kerr's hilarious comedy—and they have been in the audience more than once. A preview, maybe, of starring in the movie when it is produced by Warner Bros.

Another looker at "Mary, Mary" is Cary Grant, also in town chuckling over the broadway show. He and Doris would be just right in the screen version if you ask me.

Arthur O'Connell has had it as a race horse owner and is turning a deaf ear to Pat Boone's suggestion that they buy a couple more thoroughbreds to race at Hollywood Park—which they did with their nag, April Love. The boys recently sold that ill-fated steed to rodeo star Casey Tibbs for one dollar—"to make the deal legal," wails Arthur. "April Love cost Pat and me $25,000 and we made $400 on him." In place of more four-footed losers, O'Connell has just put his money on the nose of an apartment house in Beverly Hills, before starting his role of the ambassador in "Pocketful of Miracles" for Frank Capra.

Snapshots of New York and Hollywood collected ar random:

Decathlon champion and actor Bob Mathias and his wife welcomed their third daughter Monday and named her Marissa Liliane.

With her Las Vegas fame preceding her, Eleanor Powell opens at the Latin Quarter in New York on June 14—the first time Eleanor's performed in the big town in 25 years! You can bet she'll get a welcome.

Michael Wilding, who has reconciled with Sunsan Nell and called off their divorce, brings her to New York this summer when he replaces Michael Rennie in "Mary, Mary."

Also planning a fling on the stage in summer stock are Ginger Rogers and bridegroom Bill Marshall who will hit the straw hat circuit in "Bell, Book and Candle."

Susan Hayward's birthday isn't until late June—but Eaton Chalkley has already given her her birthday present, a Tennessee walking horse for their Carrollton, Fa., farm.

Juliet Prowse says it's all just for laughs and fun her dating young Eddie Goldstone, son of her agent Nat Goldstone. She can't understand how all the marriage talk started snowballing.

Congratulations to the Jack Fiers, he's the popular production manager at Columbia, who celebrate their happy 38th wedding anniversary this Saturday at the Sands in Lus Vegas.

And also congratulations to Charlie Schnee on his unanimous election as president of the Screen Writers Guild.

It's not all bad news for Bob Shane, of the recently broken up (and how unfortunate that is) Kingston Trio. Bob and Louise welcomed their first baby, a little girl named Joan, in Marin County Hospital in San Francisco.

A brilliant dais has been set for Mrs. Roosevelt's cancer memorial dinner fund in Washington May 30—at which Bob Hope will be honored. Those who have accepted to speak are President Kennedy and the First Lady; Robert Kennedy, Dr. Ralph Bunche, Barney Baruch, the mother of Dr. Tom Dooley and Gen. Omar Bradley, the especially honored guest.

Julie London, voted the favorite entertainer of the midshipmen at Annapolis, will attend the June 4 commencement exercises at which she'll share the spotlight with the secretary of the Navy.

It's getting steady around Hollywood between Marie McDonald and good-looking Marty Krafft.

Secrets Of Charm

Tips On Traveling Light

Packing with the light touch takes you on carefree trips. So, arrange your summer travel wardrobe to be light in every way — light in weight, light in co-ordinated shades and light on you in requiring little care. Today's "costum look," carried out in travelwise, test-tube fabrics, should carry you absolutely unrumpled through your entire holiday.

Dacron, nylon, jersey and acetate blends can replace every "pressing" need in your suitcase, for you can find these materials in suitable styles for sports and sightseeing as well as after-five wear. They're practical proof that good things can be telescoped into small packages. That means you tuck in a greater variety without taking on extra weight and bulk, a boon for passengers on planes and in compact cars.

Best of all, when they are unpacked, these fashion-fabrications are ready to wear in a couple of shakes, free of crumples and creases. And they won't be the least bit limp, not with the new finishes that help them to retain their shape and keep them looking crisp and fresh through weeks of touring.

The current crop of cottons promises to withstand plenty of packing and punishment, too. Wrinkle-resistant cords, knits and broadcloth have sprouted enough easy-care characteristics to rate high with practical minded vacationers.

Turn to the tags on garments to learn just how many minutes and how much mess will be involved in minimum maintenance and keep in mind the possibility of makeshift laundry facilities. Be sure to enlighten yourself on every detail, especially the trims which can trip up wash-and-wear talents.

One simple basic wardrobe theme will automatically eliminate a lot of petty problems. Gearing your vacation togs around one color family, for instance, gives you an amazing ability to contrive several different outfits with minimum expense and effort. The lighter shades, neutrals or pastels, are smart to choose. They're less likely to look weary; to show dirt or unsightly makeup stains, and to need brushing and sponging. And they are so easy to vary with bright-colored accessories.

It's well worth saving suitcase space for the small ornaments that are the secret of big changes: jewel-toned belts, scarves, gloves, foldaway hats and gewgaws.

Requiring even less luggage room, my pamphlet called "Your 30 Days to Charm" is an ideal traveling companion. It holds a big fund of advice for looking and feeling rested and radiant en route. Send for your copy today by writing, Secrets of Charm, c/o this newspaper, enclosing 10c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. You should have it in two weeks.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	4 ♥	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

Today's hand well illustrates a point which we stress with alacrity, namely, that aces and kings do not always play the leading roles in the slam drama. The singleton, which is the keynote of just as many slams, is perhaps as often entitled to top billing. For example, if North's spades and clubs were interchanged there would be no slam.

We lend no approval to North's bid of four hearts because there is no occasion to crowd the bidding with hands of this type. The splendid trump support, the singleton of the adverse suit, and the good side suit are all factors which should make North bullish about the hand, and he should allow himself plenty of bidding space to describe these various features.

In any event, the recommended bid is a one round force of two diamonds. South will then show his second suit, and North may then follow with a jump in hearts, fixing that suit as trump. South should make an effort toward slam by bidding five diamonds. This should be interpreted as a cue bid rather than an attempt to play the minor suit, since North has raised hearts so violently. At this point North holds the key to the success of the slam in the form of the singleton and should bid six hearts.

On the actual bidding when North leaped to four hearts South was willing to take his chance on a slam if North could protect against the loss of two spades. What was the logical way to find out? It was pointless to show one of the aces, because it was perfectly evident that North would be able to do no more than return to five hearts. Since there was not time to show both aces South concluded he would imply that he had them both, in this sequence by bidding five hearts. This in plain language was intended to say: "Partner, everything is under control but the spade suit, which the enemy has bid. If you can take care of it, please bid a slam." North decoded the message properly and contracted for six hearts. To summarize: A bid beyond game to five in a major when nothing has previously been said about a suit the opponent have bid, should be taken as a request to partner to bid a slam if he has only one loser in the adverse suit.

Check On Rate Hikes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen John A. Caroll plans to introduce a bill to prohibit pipeline companies from raising gas rates unless specifically authorized to do so by the Federal Power Commission.

The Colorado Democrat said his measure "would end pyramiding of disputed rate increases, one atop another, without any FPC determination of the justness of any of the proposed boosts.

"Such pyramiding has occurred in Colorado, Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois, Tennessee and other states."

Superintendent Wants Research Men To Resign

W.Va. Leader Seeks New Approach

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State School Supt. Rex M. Smith, who has asked his two top researchers to resign, said Wednesday he wants "a more realistic approach" to long - range school planning.

Smith indicated he did not think research efforts had accomplished their potential and wants "a down-to-earth program." He said he favors counties taking the role more as a partner than one of simply having to accept what the state office determines should or could be done to improve school methods.

"The current program has helped, but now we must have action, not continued planning," Smith said.

Craig Wilson, director of the Education Department's research division, and his assistant, T. Madison Byard, confirmed that Smith had asked them to resign. However, Wilson said they would not quit without a full airing of their differences with Smith over procedures.

Wilson and Byars obviously disagree with Smith over the duties and functions of the research division.

"The purpose of research is to dig for new truths, not just verify decisions already made," Wilson said.

The two men facing possible dismissal have been doing some special work for Gov. W. W. Barron in connection with his economic recovery program. Barron expressed surprise that Smith wanted to fire them.

West Virginia Legislature To Meet Again

Special Session Becomes Certain

By JERRY GOULD

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A special session of the West Virginia Legislature became a certainty Wednesday with federal approval of the merger of the state's Emergency Employment Program (EEP and the Aid-to-Dependent Children (ADC) program.

Gov. W. W. Barron said he would confer "within the next 10 days" with legislative leadership to determine the date and scope of the session.

Under the proposal, West Virginia will be permitted to use federal ADC funds to hire employable but jobless workers for its emergency program of public works.

Barron said in a news conference there is a possibility no extension of the temporary consumers sales tax will be necessary to provide matching funds for the federal money.

He said the Legislature can capture about $3 million from the tax hike in the months of June, July and August for the 30-70 matching program. The sales tax increase has provided funds for EEP, which now has about 5,000 employes.

If this can be accomplished, Barron said there probably would be no need to extend the tax boost beyond Aug. 31 deadline.

Assistant Welfare Secretary Wilbur Cohen announced in Washington that West Virginia could supplement the EEP program after an afternoon conference with State DPA Director W. Bernard Smith.

Details Complex

Barron and Smith first broached the subject Monday in a meeting with Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff in Morgantown. He reacted favorably and set up the meeting between Smith and Cohen.

Smith said details of correlating the two programs were "complex," but that the end result would be that from 13,000 to 18,000 persons could be employed in the EEP program making up to $165 monthly.

At present, these persons are paid $1-an-hour on the state jobs, primarily for the State Road and Conservation Commissions.

The ADC program originally stipulated that the money was to be paid to children whose fathers were unable to obtain work. Now, West Virginia will be permitted to use these men and pay them mostly with federal funds.

"Great Step Forward"

Barron termed this a "great step forward" for the state. "Our people, now more than ever before, can see the results of this program. The men are proud and it shows that West Virginia is again on the move upward."

Barron said he would call the lawmakers into session "as soon as possible."

Smith said immediate legislation would be necessary to revamp the state's DPA laws. They do not now permit aid to children whose fathers are employable.

"I am extremely pleased with the cooperation of the Welfare Department and I think it is going to be beneficial in West Virginia," Smith said. "I don't think we'll have any problems at all."

The DPA director said immediate action will be taken to implement the federal action in order that it would be ready to swing into action following the special session of the Legislature.

Pact Awarded For Fire Truck At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Joseph Durst Jr., chief of the Frostburg Fire Department, announced yesterday that a contract was let Tuesday for a new triple combination pumper engine. The price was $32,750.

The machine will be built by the Seagrave Corporation of Columbus, Ohio, and delivery is expected in about five months.

A committee of firemen met weekly during the winter, drawing up specifications for the new truck. After a review by the entire company, final specifications were submitted to the various manufacturing companies and bids were opened at last night's meeting.

The new truck will include a 1,000-gallon pump, forward cab, 1,200 feet of two and one-half-inch hose, portable pump, alternator floodlight system and such items as ladders, pike poles and other miscellaneous equipment.

Present equipment owned by the department includes a 1922 Ahrens-Fox vehicle which will be replaced by the new truck, a 1940 American La France ladder truck, 1948 Ahrens-Fox pumper and a 1959 equipment and rescue truck.

Durst also announced that firemen will begin picking up coin cards from surrounding communities serviced by the department. The cards were delivered several months ago, and proceeds from them will be applied towards the purchase price of the new truck.

If cards are not picked up within the next week, home owners may bring them to the City Hall, he said.

Work On Legion Home May Start During June

PIEDMONT — Construction of the new home of Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion, is expected to get underway early next month, according to Commander Russell McRobie.

The building will have a frontal width of 37 feet on Green Street, extending back on the lot of 85 feet. It will stand five feet back from Green Stret. A wide door in the center of the front will open into a sloping lobby. This floor will be decorated with a large American Legion emblem.

The two-story concrete block structure will have lavatories, a cloak room and utility room on the first floor. The greater part of the ground floor will include a large social and dance room. Steps to the second floor will be in the rear.

On the second floor will be offices and lavatories at the front, and a kitchen and band room in the rear. There will also be an entrance from the rear of the home from the town's Number 2 parking lot.

The front, rear and a few feet on each side will have brick veneer finish. A large glass door will give an attractive front entrance and five front windows will afford ample light to the upper story.

The building being razed for the project is one of the oldest landmarks of the community. It was used as a post office over 80 years ago. The post office was moved from the Rizer building where the Tri-Towns New Agency is located on Second Street, after which it moved to the American Legion building diagonally across the street.

The first post office was established here August 16, 1852 when the town's name was Mount Carbon, a part of Hampshire County, Virginia. Eighteen postmasters, including the present Postmaster Patrick J. Healy, have served in that capacity.

All former postmasters of the town are deceased. The first postmaster was Francis R. Dawson, who was appointed August 16, 1852. Next came Mortimer C. Totten, who was appointed July 1, 1853. The latter was the first postmaster to serve when the town's name was changed to Piedmont in Mineral County December 21, 1855.

Other appointments were Arnold S. Trowbridge, June 3, 1861; Hiram Tracey, July 27, 1861; Asbury B. Woodcock, June 6, 1866; John Little, September 20, 1869; John Gardner, April 14, 1890; William E. Heskitt, August 13, 1890; Thomas F. Kenny, October 10, 1893; James Forsythe Harrison, October 29, 1897; George T. Goshorn, December 9, 1907; Thomas W. Gocke, August 1, 1921; Clay A. Wilcox, June 30, 1933; Oscar W. Johnson, June 30, 1937 and Healy, June 30, 1937.

The proposed Legion structure will be the veterans third home. Another was located in the Rizer building, above the Tri-Towns News Agency.

More Players And Colleges Involved In Cage Scandals

N.Y. Probe Ups School • Bribe Total

Investigation May Dwarf 1951 Mess, Officials Declare

NEW YORK (AP)—The spreading college basketball scandal involved 12 more players from nine additional colleges Wednesday, raising the total in the New York investigation alone to 25 players and 16 schools.

The probe is continuing, said Dis. Atty. Frank S. Hogan as he made the new disclosures. In addition to the New York action, North Carolina authorities have charged three North Carolina State basketball players with accepting bribes to shave points.

Present revelations may only have scratched the surface, officials indicated. The current inquiry threatens to dwarf the 1951 mess which implicated 33 players from 7 colleges.

Three players — one from New York University and two from St. John's University (NY)—were named as bribe takers by Hogan. Two—one from the State University of Iowa and one from Dayton University — were named as intermediaries. And seven from six colleges — St. Bonaventure, Colorado, St. John's (NY), Seattle, Niagara and Bradley — were said by Hogan to have received and rejected but failed to report bribe offers.

No Criminal Penalty

Hogan emphasized there is no criminal penalty for failure to report a bribe offer. He added, however, that such a failure might violate the regulations of the individual school.

The New York County district attorney revealed the new list of involved players in announcing the indictment of Josphe Hacken, 48, New York, on 17 counts of bribery in the corruption of basketball players and one count of conspiracy. He also named David Budin, a former physical education teacher at a Brooklyn Junior High School, as a co-conspirator.

Hacken, and Aaron Wagman, a convicted New York football fixer, were arrested March 17 when Hogan first broke open the new basketball scandals. Wagman is in prison, in lieu of $60,000 bail, awaiting trial.

Raymond Paprocky of New York University, was said by Hogan to have accepted $1,300 from Hacken to fix four games last season. Michael Parenti and William Chrystal of St. John's were named by Hogan as having allegedly received $4,450 each to fix five games during the 1956-7 season, the last season for both players.

Brooklyn Freshmen

Hogan said the intermediaries were two freshmen from Brooklyn—Cornelius Hawkins of Iowa, who recently left school, and Roger Brown of Dayton. The district attorney said Brown received $250 from Hacken "for his good offices" and Hawkins received $210. Hogan said Hawkins, rated a tremendous basketball prospect, introduced Hacken to a number of college players.

Hogan said the following had received and rejected bribe offers but had failed to report it to their coach or any authorities:

Fred Crawford, 19, New York, St. Bonaventure star sophomore who has been hospitalized with tuberculosis.

Maurice (Corky) Gilmore, New Canaan, Conn., U. of Colorado.

Tony Jackson, 22, Brooklyn, former All-America from St. John's (NY).

Sylvester Blye, 23, New York, Seattle sophomore who played basketball for a week and was barred as a professional.

Salvatore Vergopia, 22, New York, Niagara, who played during the 1958-9 season.

James Robinson, 21, Chicago, Bradley, a sophomore.

Al Saunders, 24, Chicago, Bradley senior.

Hogan said Saunders had rejected Hacken's bribe offers but had accepted $200 for spending money from Hacken.

WON PVC CHAMPIONSHIP—Here are the Mathias High School tossers of Hardy County who won the Potomac Valley Conference baseball championship with a 10-0 record. Hoy Dove, Jr., coached Mathias which won copped the league crown for the second time in four years. Coach Loring "Jimmy" Vance's Mathias team won the honors in 1958 with an 8-0 record. The squad pictured above, left to right: FRONT ROW—Don Hoover, Ron Whetzel, Lowell Hoover, Coach Dove, Jim Fogle, Allen Good and Gary Strawderman. BACK ROW—Rodney Sherman, Ernest Halterman, Tyrone See, Steve Taylor, Dick Delawder, Albert Makowski, Ed Mongold, Lowell Mathias, Paul Wilkins, Rodney Delawder and Bruce Mathias, manager. Mathias lost to Martinsburg in the West Virginia playoffs.

Westernport shoved over a run in the bottom of the seventh to edge Zihlman, 10-9, in a Twilight Baseball League slugfest yesterday at Westernport.

The game, previously postponed because of bad weather, was a slugging affair from the start with four pitchers seeing action. Joe Niland got credit for the win in relief for Westernport while Wayne Bridges absorbed the loss.

The win was the fourth in five decisions for Westernport. Zihlman suffered its third setback in seven games. The score:

Mt. Savage Earns Playoff Berth, Defeats Valley, 8-6

Indians Play Fort Hill In Friday Tilt

Robertson Belts Homer For Winners, Engle Is Victor

Mt. Savage High's Indians earned the right to meet Fort Hill's Sentinels in the playoffs by defeating Valley High's Black Knights, 8-6, yesterday in the Allegany County High School League game of the season for both teams.

The game was reset yesterday after being postponed earlier because of bad weather. The two teams had identical 4-5 records before yesterday's win gave Mt. Savage second place in the Western Division of the circuit.

The top two teams of each division will meet in the semi-final playoffs Friday with the winners then to collide next week for the championship.

Fort Hill, winner of the Eastern Division with a 9-1 mark, will host Mt. Savage on Friday at 4 o'clock. Beall's Western Division leaders (10-0) will meet Allegany High's Campers in the other game at 4 p. m. at Frostburg on Friday.

Allegany finished second in the Eastern Division with a 6-4 record.

Mt. Savage hopped on Valley's starting pitcher for three runs in the first inning and were never headed. John Lowery was safe on an error with one out and Bob Robertson belted a homer for the first two runs. Howard Wisler's single and a one-base knock by Bob Reed accounted for the third tally.

The Indians iced the ball game with single tallies in the sixth and seventh. Lowery led the sixth off with a single, moved to second on Robertson's long fly to left and scored on Wisler's single. In the seventh Ed Bridges singled, moved up on a long fly to left by Bernard Loar and counted with the final Mt. Savage run on Wayne Howell's one-base hit to right.

Valley, which had won four games in a row before losing Tuesday to Beall, scored three times in the third on Keith Wilson's walk, Fred Metz's single, a double by Fred Sloan which scored both of them, and Phil Shockey's single which brought Sloan home. Single tallies followed in the fourth, fifth and sixth but Valley couldn't catch the early Mt. Savage lead. The box:

Historic Aviation Site Is Dedicated

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A half forgotten shrine of aviation—the site of the first military airport in the United States—was dedicated with quiet ceremony Wednesday night.

The College Park Rotary Club unveiled a marble monument marking the historic site at the edge of what has become a small field for private aircraft, and one likely to close down before the advance of suburban construction.

The marker described the airport as ths site of:

1911 — The first Army flying school was esetablished.

1912 — The first group cross-country flight originated here; destination, nearby Chevy Chase. First machine gun fired from an aircraft. First radio message sent from an aircraft.

1922—First flight of a helicopter made by Henry Berliner. One of the first points of origin for U. S. Air Mail.

Optimists, B'nai B'rith Are Victors

Keep Hot Stove Marks Unblemished

The Cumberland Optimists registered their fourth straight victory in the Hot Stove League last night, beating the Rotary Club, 13-4, behind Howard Reynolds' hitting and pitching in the second game of a doubleheader at Penn Avenue.

Reynolds was touched for an opening inning home run by Bobby Powell and a two-run triple by Merrill in the second, then settled down to blank Rotary through the fifth with nine strikeouts. Billy Lueck finished the last two innings with four whiffs.

Reynolds had two triples and a single to pace the Optimists at the plate while teammates Stan Twigg and Tom Keyser each had two hits. One of Twigg's blows was a two-bagger.

In the opener of the twin bill at Penn Avenue yesterday, B'nai B'rith remained on the heels of the Cumberland Optimists by picking up their third consecutive win, a 4-2 decision over the Outdoor Club.

Mike Wilt went the rout, fanning seven, and allowing only six hits as he picked up his second win.

Greg Shaffer and Clyde Gill had a double and single apiece, Ollie Perkins smacked a triple and a single, and Wilt had a three-bagger for B'nai B'rith.

Fire Truck Bids Will Be Asked To Determine Costs

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming said yesterday that bids will be sought for a new fire truck to determine current costs.

He said the East Side Fire Company pumper is giving trouble but that the department does not have funds in the present budget to replace it.

Mr. Fleming said that if the pumper goes out completely, he will have to ask that funds be provided in the next budget.

He said Fire Chief Virgil Parker reports that the truck will not last much longer since it is in "bad shape."

He said that second line equipment is available to fill in if the truck fails, but that it would be poor economy to depend on it for too long, because of the amount of attention needed to keep it in operating condition.

Marlins Defeat Rochester, 6-4

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI) — Charleston and Rochester of the International Baseball League evened out their current three-game series at one-all Wednesday as the visting Marlins defeated the Red Wings, 6-4.

Charleston, behind 3-2, scored three runs in the sixth when Olivares homered with two on, his sixth round-tripper of the season. The Marlins' final run came in the ninth, as did Rochester's. Tiefenauer, who came on in the sixth, got the win and Wurik, the first of four Rochester pitchers to see action, was saddled with the loss. Whitfield homored for Charleston in the second and Powell came through with a round-tripper for the Red Wings in the fourth.

Clemente Belts Two Homers As Bucs Win, 7-3

Cubs Suffer Fourth Straight Setback

CHICAGO (UPI) — Roberto Clemente drove in four runs with two homers Wednesday to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Pirates belted three Chicago pitchers for 11 hits, scoring four runs in the fifth inning off Dick Ellsworth to tag the starting left-hander with his fourth setback this season.

The loss was the fourth in a row for the seventh-place Cubs.

Clemente drove in three of the fifth inning runs when he hit his second home run of the game and his fifth of the season. The rally opened harmlessly with a walk to Bill Mazeroski after one out. A sacrifice and Ellsworth's wild pitch put the Pirate infielder on third base and Bill Virdon singled Mazeroski home.

Dick Groat's double sent Virdon to third and Clemente came on to hammer Ellsworth's pitch over the left field wall and give the Pirates a 6-2 edge. Clemente homered over the right field wall to provide a single Pirate run in the fourth inning.

Dick Stuart tripled and scored on Don Hoak's single in the second inning, and the big Pirate first baseman hit his fourth home run of the year off reliever Mel Wright with nobody on base in the eighth. Gino Cimoli followed with a triple off the center field wall, but the next Pittsburgh batters failed to drive him home.

The pitching victory went to Wilmer Mizell, who needed help from Clem Labine in the seventh inning. Labine struck out Ernie Banks to retire the Cubs after a run had scored on three singles.

Palmer, Player Favored In "500"

Festival Open Begins Today; Sanders To Play

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Gary Player, Arnold Palmer and Doug Sanders, the top three money winners in pro golf, are favorites in a field of 150 teeing off Thursday in the $50,000 "500" Festival Open, one of the richest events on the play-for-pay circuit.

Sanders was aiming for his third consecutive tourney victory, equaling his total triumphs in four previous years, since he won both the Colonial Open and the Hot Springs Open. In addition, Sanders proved last year that he could score on the Speedway course by trying for third in the 72 - hole event.

Sanders had a 273, 11 under par for the 6,605-yard course. He was ahead of Player, who tied for 11th with 276. Palmer, who failed to make the cut for the last day of play, posted a 214, one over par, on his first three rounds.

But since then, both Player and Palmer have dominated the competition. Palmer has more tourney victories this year, four, than any other contestant, and Player, who won the classic Masters title, and Sanders each has won three.

Player was golf's leading money winner going into the chase with official earnings of $48,954 compared with $40,085 for Palmer and $29,503 for Sanders, nearly $10,000 ahead of fourth place Tommy Bolt.

Player owes most of his money-winning edge to his victory in the Masters, which paid $20,000 and the Lucky International which returned $9,000. Palmer's wins have been worth no more than $4,300 twice and $2,800 twice. Player also had played in one more tournament than Palmer.

The full field of 156 contestants, including six amateurs, plays 18 hole rounds Thursday and Friday. The low 90 will advance to the third round Saturday. The field for Sunday's final round will include the low 60 scorers and ties for 54 holes.

Kansas City Puts Ban On A's Fireworks

Lane, Finley Not Pleased By Action

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The management of the Kansas City Athletics fired a few verbal blasts of its own Wednesday in the wake of the city's ban on noisy fireworks after night games.

"If the city was going to stop us, they should have done so before we entered into a contract for $35,000 worth of fireworks," said General Manager Frank Lane.

Lane, who notified club owner Charles O. Finley in Cincinnati of the city's order, quoted Finley as saying that if the aerial bombs couldn't be used there would be no fireworks at all.

Robert P. Weatherford Jr., city manager, had notified the club that only aerial displays without noisy blasts would be permitted at the Municipal Stadium in the future. He said residents in the vicinity of the ball park had complained to the City Council about the booming displays, some of which have been set of as late as midnight or after following extra-inning and lengthy games.

"If this is the type of treatment we can expect in the future, the management questions how serious the people of this area are in trying to maintain a major league franchise in this city," Lane said.

"This is not a threat, just an expression of disappointment over not being allowed to present the type of entertainment to which the fans are entitled," he added.

WVU Contest In Garden Part Of Bribe Probe

No West Virginia Players Involved

NEW YORK (UPI) — A West Virginia game in Madison Square Garden last February was among those involved in the latest chapter of the college basketball bribe scandal.

No West Virginia players have been implicated in the continuing and spreading investigation.

Junior Ray Paprocky of New York University was accused of taking a payoff of $1,000 to increase the "spread" in the Feb. 9 game. West Virginia was favored to win by 8 points and the final margin was 15—75-60.

District Atty. Frank Hogan said Paprocky failed on three other occasions to control games.

In the West Virginia game, Paprocky was second leading scorer for NYU with 11 points.

The Mountaineers and Violets played the second game of a doubleheader. Last month Hogan disclosed that the opening game of the bill, between Dayton and Seton Hall, also was involved in the fixes.

West Virginia trailed NYU by as much as 13 points in the first half. The score was 29-16 when the Mountaineers began to pull up. They narrowed the deficit to 36-31 at the half and outscored the Violets 44-25 in the second half.

Last month, Hogan disclosed that a Tennessee player, Dick Fisher, was offered a bribe to control the West Virginia-Tennessee game at Morgantown, W. Va., Dec. 1, 1959. West Virginia won handily, 93-78.

Moore Signs For Title Bout, Predicts Kayo

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Moore breezed into town Wednesday, weighing "in the 180s" and predicted Giulio Rinaldi will see "more of Moore" June 10 than when the Italian beat Archie last October in Rome.

"I will do my level best to win and to win by a knockout because a knockout in a championship match looks so nice on television," said Archie.

Moore's share of the world light-heavyweight title (he is recognized in New York, Massachusetts and Europe and Harold Johnson is the National Boxing Association hamp) will be at stake in the Madison Square Garden match with Rinaldi. The Italian won a decision over Archie last Oct. 29 in an over-the-weight bout.

They signed the official contracts for the 15-round match Wednesday.

The TV rights have been sold to ABC for $150,000.

Men's Golf Match Ends In Deadlock

Three players tied for first place in the match play against par men's golf tournament held yesterday at the Maplehurst Country Club. Players played with a half-handicap.

Red Ogden, Willard Harvey and Mervin Scott each finished 2 up in the tourney to cop first honors.

Closest to the pin on No. 4 hole was Charles Miller whose drive stopped six inches from the cup. On No. 7 the closest to the pin was Maury Goodman with a drive 14 feet from the cup.

Orioles Defeat Chicago Twice

Birds Win Pair By 2-1, 5-3 Scores

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles swept a twi-night double-header from the slumping Chicago White Sox Wednesday night, winning the nightcap, 5-3 on Ron Hansen's three-run home run after taking the opener, 2-1, on a homer by Gus Triandos.

Triandos' fifth homer of the season with the bases empty off loser Bob Shaw won the opener for Skinny Brown, who scattered six Chicago hits.

Hansen's fourth homer of the year with two men on in the eighth inning of the nightcap erased a 3-2 Chicago lead. Turk Lown was the victim of Hansen's blow but the loser was Frank Baumann, who came in and threw one pitch to Jim Gentile, who singled, putting the lead run on base.

The nightcap victory went to Wes Stock, who relieved Dick Hall in the third and pitched three-hit shutout ball for 6 1-3 innings. It was Stock's first decision of the year.

The Orioles won both games the hard way, in uphill style. In the opener, they gave the White Sox a run in the fourth inning on a single by Nellie Fox, a sacrifice, an infield out and a passed ball by Triandos.

Triandos atoned for the lapse by smashing his homer leading off the seventh.

In the nightcap, the Orioles Chicago three runs, one unearned in the first and two more in the second. Fox singled and went all the way around on Wes Covington's single, which Dick Williams fumbled for an error.

They added two more in the third on starter Russ Kemmerer's double, Jim Landis' single, a sacrifice fly by Fox and another single by Covington.

In the eighth, Brooks Robinson and Gentile singled, Robinson off Turk Lown and Gentile off Baumann, who was sent in especially to pitch to him. After reliever Gerry Staley struck out pinch-hitter Triandos, he wild pitched the runners along, and Hansen unloaded his homer into the left field bleachers.

Yanks Defeat Boston, 3-2

Kubek Singles In Skowron In Ninth

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Skowron snapped out of a hitting slump Wednesday with a ninth-inning triple and scored on a two-out, bases-loaded single by Tony Kubek to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Skowron's hit, his second of the game, set up the second victory of the year for right-hander Ralph Terry, who went the distance for the first time this season.

Gene Conley started for the Red Sox but the loss was charged to Chet Nichols, a southpaw who took over for Conley in the eighth after the Red Sox had tied the score 2-2 in the top half of the inning on a home run by Gary Geiger.

Nichols retired the first batter he faced in the ninth but Skowron sent a long drive over Geiger's head in deep center. With a runner on third, Boston Manager Mike Higgins summoned right-hander Tracy Stallard from the bullpen. The relief pitcher walked Cletis Boyer intentionally and also pinch hitter Bob Cerv on four pitches to fill the bases.

Mickey Mantle batted for Terry and struck out for the second out. Stallard had a 2-2 count on Kubek when the Yankee shortstop lined a single to right for the game's winning blow.

The Red Sox, held to three hits by Terry, took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning on a walk, Jackie Jensen's double and Russ Nixon's sacrifice fly. The Yanks came back with two runs in their half of the fourth on a walk and Roger Maris' homer, his eighth of the season.

Mt. Savage Is Overall Winner On Girls Jr. High Sports Day

Cresaptown Second, Two Records Broken, Mary Hardy Is Star

Cresaptown Junior High School dominated the track meets and Mt. Savage sparkled in the volleyball tournaments during the Junior High Girls Sports Day held Tuesday at Fort Hill Stadium.

Four junior high schools were represented — Mt. Savage, Cresaptown, Flintstone and Oldtown, plus the seventh grade from Penn Avenue, in a program divided into six sections — three track meets and three volleyball tournaments for seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls. Over 260 girls participated in the events.

Mt. Savage Sets Pace

Mt. Savage was the overall Sports Day Winner with 21 points gained, largely from first places in the 7th and 9th grade volleyball tournaments, and second places in all but one of the other meets.

Cresaptown finished a strong second in the overall Sports Day competition with 19 points by sweeping all three track events. Flintstone was a close third with 18 points. Oldtown was fourth with 5 points, Penn Avenue competed only in the 7th grade and wound up with three points.

Two records fell by the wayside as Mary Hardy of Cresaptown broke the standing broad jump mark with a leap of 8 feet, 4¾ inches and Barbara Naill of Flintstone made a softball throw of 141 feet, 11 inches.

Mary Hardy Stars

In individual points, star of the meet was Mary Hardy of Cresaptown who won the 9th grade 50 yard dash, broad jump and ran on the winning 220 relay team. Other double point scorers were Jane Triplett, Cresaptown; Eva McDonald, Mt. Savage; Linda Mallow, Flintstone; Barbara Naill, Flintstone; Nancy Winters, Cresaptown, and Carol McFerren, Cresaptown.

Allegany, Fort Hill, Beall, Valley and Bruce 7-8-9 grade girls will compete in another Sports Day today at noon at Beall High School Stadium, Frostburg.

Crozier Eligible In Hollywood Derby

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Fred W. Hooper's Crozier headed a near-record list of 79 nominees Wednesday for the $100,000-added Hollywood Derby to be run July 8 at Hollywood Park.

Crozier was one of seven starters in the Kentucky Derby to be made eligible for the 1¼ mile Hollywood Derby. The 79 nominations was one short of the record for the stakes.

In addition to Crozier, colts who have figured prominently in recent major races for 3-year-olds who were nominated included Ambiopoise, Sherluck, Four-and-Twenty, Ronnie's Ace, Flutterby, Mr. Consistency and Gay Landing.

Europe was represented by Neil S. McCarthy's Typhoon, the 2-year-old champion of Ireland and England who recently was brought to this county.

Now they've come up with a "Tote-Stool," a golf bag carryall which converts into a seat and weighs less than two pounds.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Angels Wednesday sold shortstop Fritz Brickell to Toronto of the International League for an undisclosed sum.

Brickell, who was acquired by the new American League club in a trade with the New York Yankees for pitcher Duke Maas, batted .122 for Los Angeles in 21 games.

Mary Janssen Loses In Upset

Mrs. James Wilson Is Victor, 5 And 4

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. James Wilson of Louisville, winner of the last three Kentucky titles, whittled four strokes from par and eased co-medalist Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., out of the Southern Amateur Golf Tournament, 5 and 4, in Wednesday's second round.

That was a big surprise of the round in which defending champion Judy Eller and two of her principle rivals, Sherry Wheeler and Marge Burns, each scored an impressive 6 and 5 victory.

Miss Eller, from Old Hickory, Tenn., shot a one-under-par 74 over the 6,000-yard Biltmore Forest Country Club course to oust Mrs. Leo Manley of Asheville. Miss Burns, from Greensboro, N.C., also was one under par in winning from Mrs. George Wrigley of Greenville, S.C., and Miss Wheeler, from Glasgow, Ky., was one over in her romp over Mrs. Samuel Upchurch of Brimingham, Ala.

Mrs. Scott Probasco of Chattanooga, Tenn., who shared medal honors with Miss Janssen, beat Mary Mills, eight-time Mississippi champion from Gulfport, 1 up.

Rigney Not Downcast, Sees Better Showing For Los Angeles

Many Games Close, More Runs Would Start Win Streak

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels takes baseball adversity in stride.

The last-place American club has had only two victories that could be called easy. They beat the Baltimore Orioles, 7-2, on opening day and gave the Cleveland Indians a 9-0 whitewash last Tuesday night.

It's been one cliff-hanger after another, otherwise, but Rigney shows no signs of buckling under the strain.

"No, I'm not downcast," he says. "Not a bit downcast. We certainly can get out of the cellar. All we need are four or five wins in a row and we're going to pass some of those clubs. It's that close down there. With the exception of Detroit, the rest of the clubs are getting beaten regularly. We're not far back on the lost side."

Rigney would like to acquire a right-handed long-ball hitters.

"We've got a couple of things on the fire," he says. "We're investigating them. We know what we need."

Injuries have hurt the Angels. Third baseman Eddie Yost has been out fora month with a fractured hand.

Yost's absence, however, gave rookie third baseman Gene Leek a chance to shine. Leek has been one of the Angels' more consistent hitters and he's come up with some sparkling plays afield. When Yost returns, Leek will probably stay in the lineup as an outfielder.

Rigney is more disappointed in his hitters than his pitchers. "If you don't hit, you don't win," he says.

Southpaw slugger Ted Kluszewski started off well but jammed his right thumb. Big Steve Bilko started poorly but seems to be coming around. Second baseman Ken Aspromonte, counted on for right hand power at the plate, is hardly hitting his hat-size.

"I think all our players are hustling," says Rigney, "but we haven't been driving in runs. In 80 per cent of our road games, if we'd just scored four runs we would have won."

Funkhouser pitched two no-run, no-hit games against Alderson-Broaddus (3-0) and West Virginia U. Freshmen (6-0), whiffed a total of 81 in 60⅓ innings and finished with a 62 record. In a 10 inning tie game against Baltimore Junior College, Funkhouser struck out 18 batters.

In Memoriam

STAFFORD—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Ephriam Stafford, who passed away May 25, 1960.
When the evening shades are falling,
And we're sad and all alone,
In our heart there comes a longing,
If you could only come home.
Often our thoughts do wander,
To your grave not far away.
Where my dear husband was laid
1 year ago today.

Area Residents Will Pray For ABL Victims

Churches To Toll Bells At 11:59 A.M.

Public and parochial school children of Allegany County and surrounding communities will join persons of all walks of life to observe two minutes of prayer in silence today when church bells toll at 11:59 a. m. in memoriam to nine employes of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, who were killed in an unexplained explosion Monday morning at the Rocket Center, W. Va. facility.

Guy Smith, chairman of the observance backed by Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW, said officials and personnel of the ABL plant will cooperate fully as well as the City of Cumberland, Allegany County officials, schools, churches, businessmen and industry.

Salute And Taps

At 11:59 a. m. a 21-gun salute and taps will break the silence during a program on the lawn of the VFW home. The firing squad will be composed of members of the Marine Corps and the color guard will be composed of members of Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW and Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion. The public is invited.

Mr. Smith said he contacted church, school, business and industrial officials who promised full support of the observance. All employes of the ABL plant will be notified to observe the two-minutes of prayer in silence.

The national anthem will be played over radio stations in Cumberland as well as Keyser and Frostburg at 11:59 a. m., said Mr. Smith.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Kelly Springfield Tire Company, Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Corporation, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Cumberland Steel and other industries have been contacted.

Clergy Contacted

Local officials, firemen, police, businessmen will mark the observance.

Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church and president of the Cumberland Ministerial Association, yesterday contacted members of the association as well as the three Catholic Churches to remind them to toll the church bells at the designated time.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of public schools in Allegany County said that all county schools have been notified to take part in the memorial service. Flags in the area will be flown at half mast, said Mr Smith.

Local and area parochial school children will also take time out for two minutes of prayer. Communities in nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania are expected to take part in the observance.

Makes Presentation

Timothy Barnes, president of Allegany High School student council, presents Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal, with a check on behalf of the council for the purchase of a trophy case for non-athletic awards.

Sled Riding Injuries Bring Boy $209.70

A sled-riding accident of last December 21 which resulted in injury to a five-year-old boy was recalled in a $1,500 damage suit and its out-of-court settlement for $209.70, which were filed together in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The sled collided with the automobile and the youngster sustained lacerations of his forehead, contusions, concussion and was otherwise bruised and injured.

The settlement was signed by Hugh A. McMullen as attorney for the plaintiffs and William Walsh as attorney for the defendant.

Local Pupils Add Proof To 'Space Age'

Balloons Travel Into Canada

Pupils at Gephart School on Frederick Street have proved they are definitely living in the "Space Age."

On the afternoon of May 12, students at the school launched 297 helium-filled balloons in a contest to see which balloon would go the greatest distance.

The results are in and the winner was Judy Cessna, a fourth-grade pupil, whose balloon traveled all the way to Winona, Ontario, Canada, an estimated air distance of nearly 300 miles.

Arrives In Canada

Judy's balloon arrived in Canada the following day and was found by Robert S. McIntyre, who was working his fruit orchard located 45 miles west of Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Mr. McIntyre's wife, Mrs. Mary McIntyre, wrote the Cessna girl a four-page letter in which she described their part of the country and the work in which they are engaged in.

Oddly enough, second place in the contest was won by Judy's brother, Tommy Cessna, whose balloon also traveled into Canada.

Tommy's balloon was discovered by a 14-year-old boy named Kenneth Bolender of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who was spending the weekend at his family's summer cottage at South Cayuga, Ontario, on the Canadian side of Lake Erie.

The first card received at the school was from a 12-year-old boy in Punxsutawney, Pa., who found the balloon released by Roberta Miller. The balloon was found several hours after it was released from the local school and it had traveled approximately 100 air miles.

Other Points Reached

Other balloons traveled to Indiana, Pa.; Marion Center, Pa.; Sherman, N. Y.; Smicksburg, Pa.; Stoyestoyn, Pa.; Conemaugh, Pa., and Brookville, Pa.

Although most of the balloons that were found were carried north, one did travel southeast and was found by Fred Nelson at Baker VA Center in Martinsburg, W. Va.

Each of the balloons which were sent aloft carried a card with the name and address of the pupil who released it. Many of the children received interesting notes and letters from individuals who found the balloons.

One youth who found a balloon near Smicksburg, said the balloon was caught on a fence and was scaring cattle. Another youth said he found a balloon while working on his brother-in-law's farm.

Another youngster found one of the balloons while he was groundhog hunting, and still another was found in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's yards near Johnstown.

James E. Kelly Jr., a teacher at Gephart School, who was in charge of the contest, said the children who received answers were quite thrilled and all wrote letters to the persons who found their balloons.

Mr. Kelly said the contest was held in conjunction with a fun night program which will be held tomorrow from 7 to 10 p. m. at the school.

The Cessna girl will receive a

Sabin Vaccine Could Prevent Polio Epidemic

Advised For Persons Taking Salk Shots

"Why should I take the oral polio vaccine when I've already had my Salk shots?"

That question has been asked over and over each day in the offices of area physicians since the announcement that the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society will conduct oral polio vaccine clinics June 2 and 3 at 17 locations in Allegany County.

The answer is fairly simple:

Everyone between three months and 45 years of age should have the Sabin oral vaccine, whether or not he has had Salk polio shots.

This is desirable because the Sabin oral vaccine, made from live but weakened poliovirus, provides a more effective type of immunity.

Important Difference

Salk vaccine provides immunity to all three types of polio, but only in the bloodstream and nervous system. A person may be immune but still carry the crippling virus in his intestinal tract and spread it to others.

But the live virus in the Sabin vaccine is able to multiply naturally in the gastrointestinal tract, providing a complete immunity and preventing an immune person from carrying the disease to others.

This means that, as each person takes the Sabin oral vaccine, he helps to increase the safety of the community as a whole because he no longer can be a carrier of the disease.

The oral vaccine thus can break the vital link in the chain of virus transmission that produces an epidemic. Many doctors view it as the means to eventually wiping out polio in a community.

Continue Salk Shots

Meanwhile, doctors say it's a good idea for those taking Salk shots to continue them, as immunity against all three types of polio won't be provided by the Sabin oral vaccine until after two more clinics have been held in the fall.

Oral vaccine will be dispersed from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, at 17 locations listed elsewhere on this page. Teams of doctors and nurses will visit public schools a day earlier.

Doctors are advising their patients to take the oral vaccine for five principal reasons:

1. It is absolutely safe.
2. It is highly effective.
3. It could prevent an epidemic of crippling polio this summer.
4. It is painless, tasteless, and easy to take.
5. It's free — and it won't be available through the usual channels for some time to come.

Polio Vaccine Centers Listed

Oral polio vaccine will be dispensed free on Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, at the following locations:

Cumberland — City Hall, West Side, Pennsylvania Avenue, John Humbird, Gephart, LaSalle and Fort Hill schools.

Frostburg—Fire Hall, Beall Elementary School.

LaVale — Parkside School, LaVale Fire Hall.

Other Areas—Westernport, Central, Cresaptown, Oldtown and Mt. Savage schools, Flintstone Fire Hall.

Clinics will be held from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. both days for all who report. Public school children will receive the vaccine a day earlier, on Thursday, June 1, from teams of doctors and nurses who will visit their schools.
